June election to fill 5 school board seats

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

With the April 10 deadline drawing near for Romulus residents to file for five open school board seats in the June 12 election, speculation is running high on who will run.

Last June with two seats open, only three candidates ran.

One of those candidates is Wayne Avery, who was recently elected president of the present board. Avery and board secretary Shirley Lombardi, who are the only ones not up for reelection, issued a public statement this week offering assistance to anyone who may want to run for the school board seats.

"Very shortly, on April 10, petitions must be filed for five seats on the Romulus School Board. We would like to urge all citizens, especially those serving present interim appointments, to run for this most rewarding position," they stated.

"Additionally, by attending coming meetings, Romulus citizens could observe the normal workings of our school district and would find serving as a school board member a great way to contribute to their community.

"If we can be of any help or answer any questions regarding the responsibilities involved, please feel free to call on us any time," Avery and Lombardi stated.

It is ironic that Avery and Lombardi invited "especially those serving present interim appointment" to run again. Because Gov. William Milliken, in making the four appointments to replace the four recalled school board members, laid down two requirements for those taking the interim appointments.

He insisted that no one involved with the school board members' recall drive in any capacity would be appointed. Milliken's second stipulation was that the appointees promise that they would not run for the seat again in the June election.

The latter request was questioned by many who claimed that the four appointed were active in school affairs, or community functions already, and would probably be as effective as any who might seek the job.

Many observers, including Avery and Lombardi, feel the four appointees - Sharron Cahill, Lynn E. Slaughter, Richard Campbell and Sandra Langley - should be able to run for the job on their own in June if they wish to.

Backers of the successful recall drive, which ousted President

Gerald Budd, Vice-president Gordon Silvey, Treasurer Ron Christensen and Secretary Gloria Chandler on March 4, protested that none of their group were appointed to the vacant four seats.

It has been learned who sponsored the four appointees. Mrs. Cahill was sponsored by Dan Manthe, legislative agent for Wayne County Intermediate School District; Mrs. Slaughter was sponsored by Manthe and Senate Majority Leader William Faust; Campbell was also sponsored jointly by Manthe and Faust; and Mrs. Langley was sponsored by State Rep. Edward Mahalak.

The Roman has also learned that Gov. Milliken was extremely upset when the four names were disclosed by his staff members before he had signed the appointment order officially naming the four to fill the school board vacancies.

A total of 15 names were submitted to Milliken and it is known that at least five turned down the appointment, although their names were not revealed.

Candidates running for the five open seats need a minimum of 20 signatures of registered voters on their petitions and they must be turned in before 4 p.m. April 10. Deadline for withdrawing from the race is April 13.

Romulus High third in skill competition

Twenty-eight students from Romulus High School's Vocational and Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) competed at the Regional Skill Olympics recently at Washtenaw Community College and Ann Arbor Huron High School.

Romulus High School finished third among 15 schools and 10 local students won in their skill areas. They will go on to represent R.H.S. at the State Skill Olympics April 9, 10, and 11 in Kalamazoo at the State Leadership and Skill Conference. Sandra Poole (health occupations) won second place in nurse aide-orderly competition. Beth Anne Farrell (health occupations) won third place in nurse aide-orderly competition. Tim Hutchinson (auto mechanics) won second place in auto mechanics competition.

Mike Guidon (small engine repair) won third place in the small engines competition. Gerald Irving (welding) won first place in arc welding competition. Doug Smith and Dennis Johnson finished in second and third place in gas welding competition.

In the leadership contests, Julie Charobee and Alfreda Rooks finished in fourth and fifth place in job interview competition. Stewart Kerr finished in third place in prepared speech with his topic, entitled "V.I.C.A.'s Incredible Potential."

The purpose of the skill olympics is to recognize individual students by allowing them to compete in their particular area, demonstrating the skills which they have achieved.

Second year in row

North Jr. band wins top rating in district meet

Romulus North Jr. High Symphonic Band received a First Division Rating at the District 12 Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association Band Festival March 11 held at Clague Jr. High School in Ann Arbor.

The Symphonic Band was competing in Class "A" competition. The First Division Rating is the band's second consecutive First Division Rating at the District Level and marks the third First Division Rating by the Band in the last four years.

Director Richard Kruse explained that this year's First Division Rating was a truly remarkable achievement in light of the fact that there was no elementary music program in the Romulus Schools last year. "We also lost two weeks of rehearsal time this year due to the lack of bus transportation last Fall plus three snow days. Several outstanding performers from last year moved away or attended schools in different districts this year," he said.

"On top of all of this, our first cornetist was ill and the students had to arrive at the Band Room at 5:30 A.M. on the day of the Festival. But the kids never gave up hope or quit. They performed just magnificently.

"The support of the parents of these students to make the necessary sacrifices to have their children in our band program has been just wonderful and most gratifying. These people are super parents," Kruse said.

The North Jr. High Concert Band also attended the Festival competing in Class "D" at the Ida senior high school. The Concert Band received a final Second Division Rating. However, all three judges in the concert or prepared music part of the Festival gave the Band First Division Ratings.

A third division Rating in Sight Reading made up the final Second Division Rating.

"A majority of our Concert Band students are beginners this year and the fact that they received any First Ratings at all is almost unbelievable," Kruse concluded.

Director Kruse added that he "hopes to be able to continue to provide the kind of Music Education Program our community deserves in the future. The key to this will be continued good communications with the Board of Education, the Citizens Advisory Committee and the School Systems Administration."

"Y" sets program on rape

The MAC'S YWCA group, which meets at the Romulus Neighborhood Center, will sponsor a program on rape education at noon on Tuesday, April 4, at Harrison School, 14701 Harrison Rd., Romulus.

Annette Amici, rape education counselor at the Dearborn Crisis Center, will present the program.

Huron voters turn down millage bid

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Where do we go from here? That's basically the question the Huron School Board will try to answer at its April 3 special meeting.

When voters soundly rejected a 10-mill renewal 635-468 last week, it cut the current levy of 25 mills to 15 operating mills.

And school administrators and board members say there's no way the school district can operate on that size tax levy.

"Certainly we're disappointed," appraised Mrs. Jean Richert, secretary of the school board, after the renewal was defeated.

"But it shows the growing dissatisfaction with the tax structure and how schools are financed. I have six children, so I know what it means to run short of money.

"The school millage is the only place people can vote no on higher taxes."

Mrs. Richert said it would have been hard to retain the "status quo" with the 10-mill renewal and admits the future has a big question mark hanging over it.

"The grapevine has it that Huron residents are circulating petitions to ask the school board to put the renewal proposal back on the ballot for another try," she said.

Three years ago voters in the Huron School District passed a $4.9-million bond issue and in 1974 the last operating millage was approved when residents okayed 4.35 mills.

Now it's "back to the drawing board" for the Huron School Board and administration to see what they can come up with at the April 3 special board meeting.

City officials at state meet

Hundreds of city officials from around the state congregated in Lansing last week for the annual Michigan Municipal League's legislative conference. Among them were a group from Romulus who met with Senate Majority Leader William Faust (D-Westland) for two hours to discuss concerns of the city. Included in the number were City Clerk Leonard Folmar (From left), Councilman Jimmie C. Raspberry, Faust, and Mayor Pro-Tem Mary Ann Banks.

Child obesity: A serious national problem

National estimates for child obesity are hovering around 30 percent, and statistics seem to indicate that this figure is rising every year. Right now, it means that almost one out of every three children in the United States is overweight.

In keeping with "The Week of the Young Child", April 2-8, sponsored by the National Association for the Education of Young Children, Weight Watchers International is focusing its attention on this "serious problem".

"For these overweight children, the additional pounds they carry complicate their young lives in many ways," said Florine Mark, area director for Weight Watchers in eastern and central Michigan. "Not only does overweight play a part in a child's general health, but in his emotional well-being, too."

There are studies that indicate that the overweight child is more prone to accidents, often is ostracized by his peers, may be unconsciously discriminated against by his teachers and shares personality characteristics strikingly similar to traits shown typical of minority group youngsters who were victims of intense prejudice. Further statistics seem to indicate that many of these obese children tend to remain overweight as adults.

What then are the preventatives, if any, to the growing and dangerous U.S. phenomena of overweight children?

"The prevention of overweight should begin in infancy," says Dr. Reva T. Frankle, director of nutrition at Weight Watchers International. "Of course, the causes of overweight are just beginning to be understood, and hypotheses abound. But the importance of proper early nutrition and monitored weight gain is obvious."

Some studies indicate that a child's eating patterns are formed in the first six months and by ages six or seven his likes and dislikes, appetite and capacity can be set for life.

"The first step in preventing this problem is the education of the parents," Dr. Frankle suggested. "Parents must become aware of the desirability of preventing overweight in their children. The myth of a 'fat baby' being either a healthy or a cute baby' must be laid to rest. Parents must realize that a good eater is not a big eater, but a moderate one."

For concerned parents, mothers in particular, Weight Watchers offers these 10 suggestions —

(1) Get in shape prior to pregnancy, and go over your weight and diet very carefully with your doctor. There have been some indications that children of obese parents are generally three times as fat, by the age of 17, as children of lean parents.

(2) Let your baby decide when it's had enough to eat. Your doctor will monitor your child's growth rate, and you'll find the baby won't be malnourished, if it doesn't finish all its formula at one sitting.

(3) Feed your child at regular mealtimes. A crying baby is not necessarily a hungry one. It might need burping, a diaper change, or even just be cranky. Also, during the first few months the need to suckle can be very strong, but it doesn't necessarily indicate hunger, and can be met with a pacifier. Remember, if the child has eaten a meal, it will take about three hours for its stomach to empty, and hunger to set in.

(4) Don't feed solid foods to your infant too early. Check with your pediatrician, but most feel that four months is early enough to start.

(5) Using food as a bribe, reward, or comfort too often teaches children inappropriate responses to food.

(6) Keep the house free of junk food. If snacks are wanted, treat your child to fruits or have them nibble on vegetables rather than candy or cookies.

(7) Create a positive environment for exercise.

(8) Try not to give in to a child's tyrannical demands for sweets. A child needs discipline, and this is an important one.

(9) If you have a child already overweight, talk to your pediatrician about a weight control program. A youngster CAN diet safely with a sensible regimen of nutritionally balanced meals, and a behavior modification program to retain poor eating habits. The sooner the problem is dealt with, the easier it will be.

(10) Remember, food is not another word for love. Hugs, kisses, discipline, and attention are the healthiest signs of affection of all.

What's for lunch?

Students returning to classes after the Easter break will be dining on such entrees as cold meat, cheese and lettuce submarine and hot baked meat loaf sandwiches in the cafeterias of the Van Buren schools.

In the elementary schools the menu Monday will be soup, pizza, vegetable, chilly things and milk, followed by a lineup of juice, cheeseburgers on buns, french fries, fruit, pudding and milk on Tuesday.

Next Wednesday the cafeteria will be serving soup, cold meat, cheese and lettuce sandwiches, fruit, pie and milk, with juice, beef-O-roni, bread and butter, vegetable, cake and milk slated for next Thursday.

Closing out the week will be a lineup of juice, grilled cheese sandwiches, vegetable, fruit cobbler and milk.

In the junior high schools, the menu Monday will be bowls of chili, hot dogs on buns, potato chips, fruit, cookies and milk, with soup, sloppy joes, fruit, cake and milk on tap for Tuesday.

Next Wednesday the bill of fare will be pizza, with side dishes of soup, fruit Jell-O, pudding and milk.

On Thursday the cafeteria will be serving hot baked meat loaf sandwiches, mashed potatoes and gravy, fruit, cobbler and milk, with a lineup of juice, grilled cheese sandwiches, tossed salads, cake and milk closing out the week.

The alternate menu selections will be tacos and burritos Monday, Belleville burgers Tuesday, doubleburgers with cheese next Wednesday, melted ham and cheese sandwiches on buns next Thursday and Belleville burgers next Friday.

School will be out next week in the Van Buren district, but it will school as usual in the Lincoln Consolidated School district.

On tap for students in the cafeterias Monday will be a lineup of macaroni and cheese, buttered peas, fruit, rolls and butter, followed by submarine sandwiches, fruit cocktails, potato chips, cookies and milk on Tuesday.

Next Wednesday the menu will be meat pies, peaches, buttered vegetable, bread and butter and milk, with fish on buns, cole slaw, pears, Jell-O and milk slated for next Thursday.

Closing out the week will be a menu of tacos, fruit, buttered corn, ice cream and milk.

Firm, Jerry work for MD

Reynolds Metal Co., the Muscular Dystrophy Association and comedian Jerry Lewis will join forces for the fourth consecutive year to recycle aluminum for "Jerry's kids".

The announcement was made by David P. Reynolds chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the Reynolds company. During the past three years, the public, Reynolds and its employees have raised more than $460,000 to fight Muscular Dystrophy by recycling the equivalent of 67 million all-aluminum beverage cans.

Interested citizens can help by donating recyclable aluminum for MDA at any Reynolds collection point. During August, Reynolds will donate a penny to MDA for every pound recycled.

Reynolds pays 17 cents a pound for aluminum beverage cans and other clean household aluminum such as pie plates, foil, frozen food and dinner trays and dip, pudding and meat containers. Certain other items, including aluminum siding, gutters, storm door and window frames and lawn furniture tubing also are worth 17 cents per pound. This aluminum must be free of all foreign materials, cut to lengths not exceeding 3 feet and not mixed with cans.

The Reynolds recycling unit regularly visits four Detroit locations. For dates and times, call toll free 800-243-6000.

The word gas comes from the Flemish spelling of "chaos." It was devised by a Flemish alchemist, Jan Baptista van Helmont, who was the first to realize that there are such substances.

Familiar voice lost

Mrs. Van Aernum dies

When Mrs. Gladys Van Aernum passed away recently, it silenced the voice that was familiar to early Romulus residents who owned telephones.

One of the first telephone operators in Romulus, Mrs. Van Aernum worked in Grass Lake, Mich. when she was asked to move here.

She was the only telephone operator in Romulus at that time and worked out of a house in the old downtown section of the city at Goddard Rd. and Sterling.

Mrs. Van Aernum was available to put through calls 24 hours a day as she serviced Romulus and New Boston. Her death Feb. 22 at the age of 78 after a prolonged illness caused many oldtimers to recall her early dedication to duty.

Funeral services were conducted Feb. 25 at Baum Funeral Home by Rev. Lonnie England, pastor of Romulus' Calvary Baptist Church, with interment at Michigan Memorial Park, Flat Rock.

She is survived by her husband, Grant, who operated a service station for many years at Goddard Rd. and Sterling.

Also surviving are five children, Mrs. Julius (Virgilene) Szabo, formerly of Romulus, now of Florida; Keith, of Port Washington, Wis.; Ronald, of Plymouth; and twin girls, Mrs. Robert (Joan) Moomaw and Mrs. William (Jean) Krueger of Romulus.

Fourteen grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren, most of whom were born in Romulus.

One sister, Mrs. Harry (Alma) Jones of Rives Junction, Mich.; and one brother, William (Rex) Broesamle of Hillsdale.

Mrs. Van Aernum was a vital part of Romulus during her lifetime and even in death. The Baum Funeral Home from which she was buried is the former residence of her best friend, Stella McCreary, who passed away several years ago.

"She is greatly missed by her many friends in Romulus," said her daughter, Mrs. Jean Krueger.

"She belonged to the Sunshine Club of Romulus in the 1920s and '30s which sent cards and visited persons who were ill and confined."

Mrs. Van Aernum was also a member of the American Legion Post 231 ladies auxiliary of New Boston.

Born in Waterloo, Mich. Oct. 22, 1899, she moved to Romulus in 1922 and spent the rest of her life here where she became a well-known resident, helpful to many people.

Truly, to those who knew her well, she will be missed greatly.

Basketball clinic set for Saturday

There will be a special free basketball clinic held on six Saturdays beginning April 8 and ending May 13 at Romulus North Junior High School, 37300 Wick Rd., Romulus.

Guiding the clinic is high school varsity cage coach Rod Hanna and it will be for three age groups.

Elementary School boys, ages 8-12, will be 9-11 a.m.

Junior high and high school girls will play from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Junior high and high school boys will participate from 1-3 p.m. each Saturday during the clinic.

Helping Hanna direct the clinic will be assistant varsity coach Chuck Shamey; varsity co-captains this year, Herb Buckley and John Kersey; and some of the other varsity players.

"Fundamentals will be stressed the first hour of each session and the second hour will have groups divided into teams and games will be played," Hanna said.

"At the end of the six-week period, the top two teams in each category will receive trophies."

The Romulus Recreation Dept. is cooperating in putting on the cage clinic and can be contacted at 941-0666, Ext. 67 for more information.

Meanwhile, Hanna said the six-week Saturday basketball program will be advertised throughout the school district and applications will be available at every school for youngsters to sign up.

There is no charge for the program, but participants are requested to bring their regular gym clothes and equipment, including tennis shoes, shorts, T-shirts, towel and a lock.

"We're doing this to involve the community in the game of basketball and to improve their individual skills," said Hanna, who traveled to St. Louis with Jesse Merriweather, Romulus High School assistant principal, to watch the NCAA college basketball semi-finals and finals.

New Boston Lumber: Service family-style

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

A family business with personal service and reasonable prices.

That's the guiding philosophy of the new owners of New Boston Lumber Co., 36500 Sibley Rd., in New Boston. Located just off the I-275 interchange, the business is ideally located, according to Dick Mans, manager of the lumber company and one of four owners.

Also included in the four owners who purchased the former A. Dugan & Son Lumber Co. are Dick's brother, Michael, 34, and two cousins, John Mans, 39, and Nicholas Mans, 41.

"We're a division of N.A. Mans & Sons Lumber Co. in Trenton and hope to accomplish the same things here in this area that were achieved there," said Dick, who is 29 years old. The parent company also owns the HyWay Lumber Co. in Monroe.

"Although we will try to provide our customers with all types of materials they may need, our main objective is to service our customers."

"The Trenton lumber company was built on service and a close relationship with the people. That's what we hope to accomplish here with residents in New Boston, Huron Township, Romulus, Belleville, Sumpter Township and all surrounding areas," Dick explained.

The new owners purchased the former Dugan lumber company the first of this year and look forward to expansion this summer when they build a new $100,000 building. In existence since around 1930, the lumber company presently has a 900 square foot structure which will be moved to the rear of the property when the proposed 5,000 sq. ft. building is finished sometime this fall.

"We have a complete home center, all types of do-it-yourself materials and a wide variety of all kinds of supplies," Dick said.

"We'll have a whole new appearance when the new building is completed, with parking planned for the front of the business. The older building will be moved to the back of the property and used there."

Mans said his company specializes in materials for customers to buy and build their own garages, pole barns, sheds and storage buildings, among other things.

"We have a garage package that customers can buy at a very reasonable price and various designs," he added.

Lumber and the Mans family go hand-in-hand.

"My grandfather started in the lumber business in Trenton back around 1900," Dick says, "and it's been in the family ever since."

Referring to his brother, two cousins and himself, Mans said, "All four of us grew up in the lumber business and chose to make our living this way."

"One of the greatest satisfactions we have is helping people get the products they need and it's a nice feeling when we can be a part of people improving their homes," he pointed out.

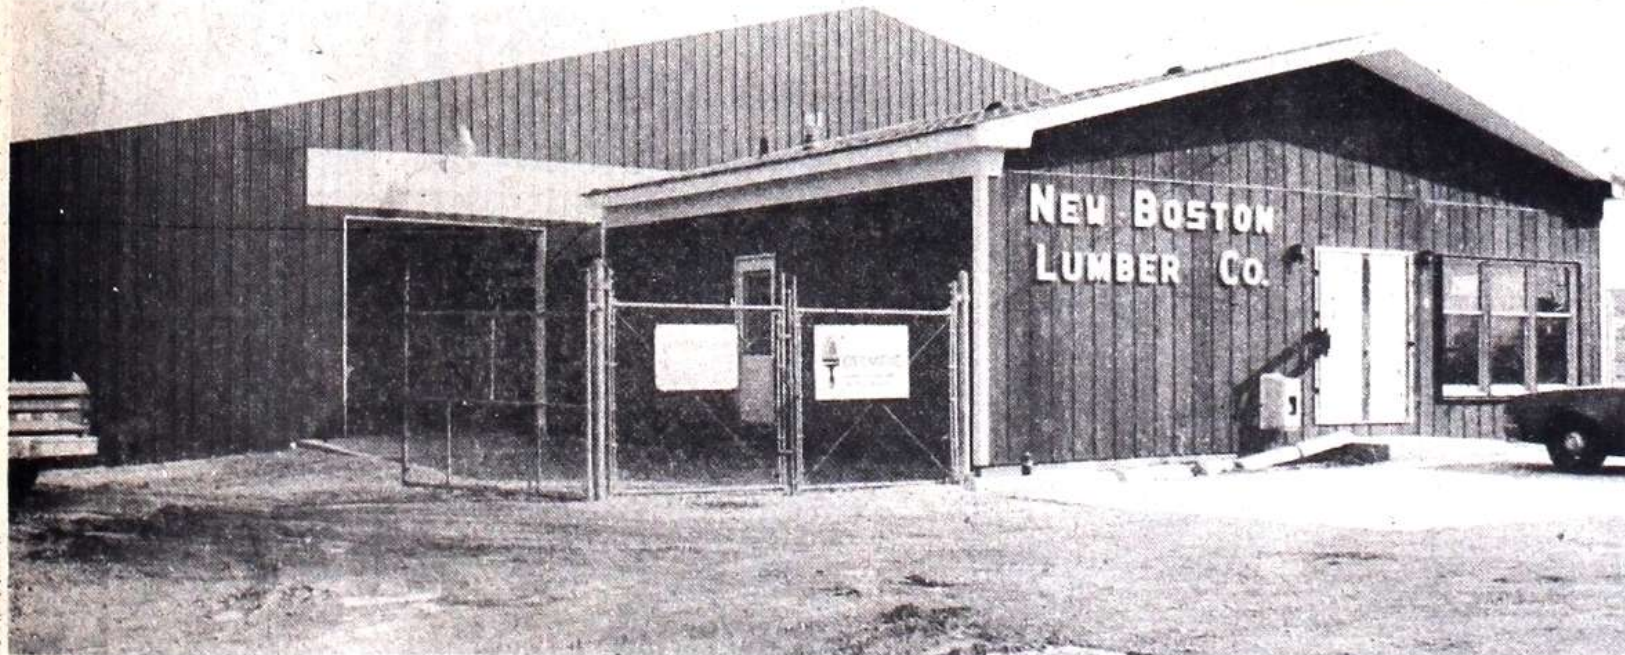

Mans and his three partners have known Ralph Dugan for some time, so when he was ready to sell his business, they purchased it. Dugan presently works for Mans' Lumber Co. in Trenton and all of his former employees were retained and now work for New Boston Lumber Co.

Business hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturdays. "We plan to extend our hours later on in the spring," Dick said.

New Boston Lumber Co. can be contacted by calling either 941-3131 or 753-9366.

"We are going to stress service to our customers and the friendly family-type business approach. We feel it will work here just like it has in Trenton and Monroe."

And so do the new customers who are experiencing the friendly approach and special service at New Boston Lumber Co.

Friendly service

A family business stressing friendly service. That's the plan of the new owners of New Boston Lumber Co., 36500 Sibley Road, New Boston. Dick Mans, shown here with an architect's rendering of the company's proposed $100,000 building, is manager of the lumber business. Formerly A. Dugan & Son Lumber Co., the business was purchased by Mans, his brother, Michael, and two cousins, John and Nicholas Mans, the first of the year. Although they now have a complete home center with all kinds of supplies for the do-it-yourselfer, the proposed

5,000-square foot building will enhance their business greatly when it is completed in the fall. The present building will then be moved to the rear of the property and parking will be designated for the front of the lumber company. "We've built our business on service and close relationship with people in Trenton and Monroe and we hope to do the same in this area," Mans said. — ANP photos

District nets CETA

The Romulus Community Schools District has received Federal funds for the amount of $104,000 under the CETA Title VI program for 16 CETA positions.

These positions include: library aide, job placement specialist, media specialist, reading technical aide, math technical aide, special education technical aide, and component coordinator for alternative education.

The purpose of the CETA Title VI Act is to provide job training and employment opportunities for economically disadvantaged, unemployed, and underemployed persons in jobs providing needed public services, and training, thus enabling such persons to move into employment not supported by this act.

Romulus Community Schools is making a greater effort to enrich academic and vocational programs through the combined efforts of school personnel and the CETA employees. The CETA employees will serve as resource, career education, reading, math, and library persons to assist the students. They will also assist in developing and organizing individual and group learning for the students.

In addition, they will provide assistance to those students who have not achieved the minimum performance expected by the school.

Romulus Community Schools District is also trying to reach those students who have problems other than academic. These include: dropouts, handicapped students, attendance problems, behavioral and disciplinary problems, adjudicated students, and substance abuse problems.

E. L. Sheffield, director of Career and Vocational Education, said, "We had a frantic deadline to meet in getting all these positions filled. As a result of hard work and team effort of Karen Meyer, placement coordinator, and Hank McQueen, special needs coordinator, 16 positions were interviewed and filled in a matter of two days."

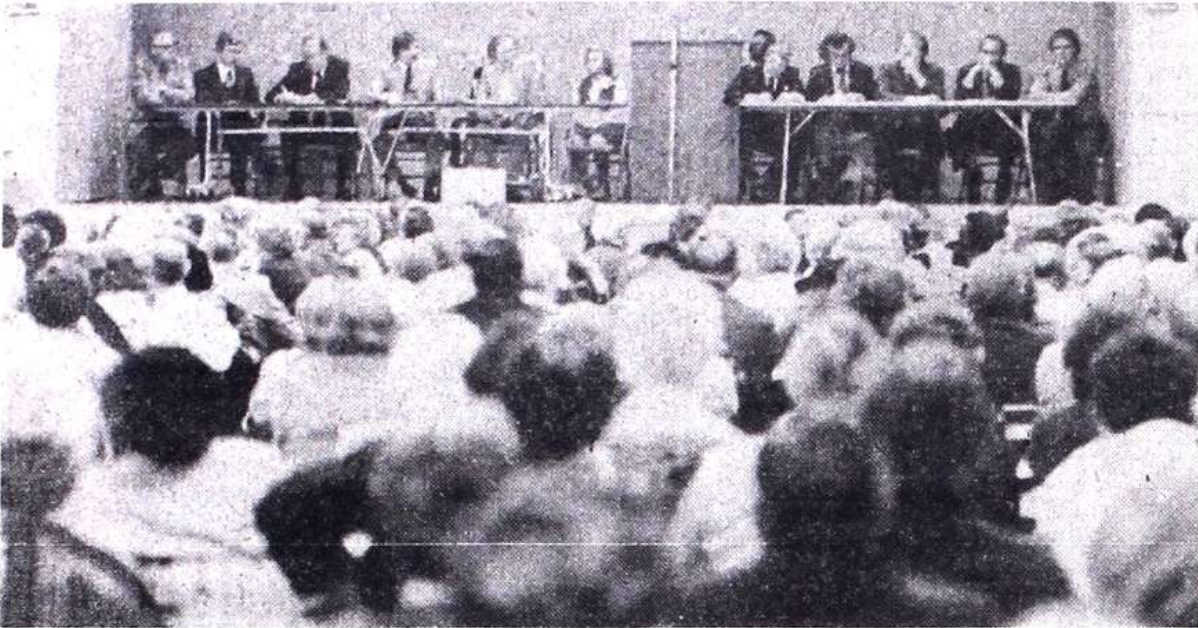

"Because these positions were incorporated in needed areas that could not otherwise be filled by the district in terms of budget, this project will serve as an educational enrichment for our students," he said.

The total program will involve the combined efforts of the school staff, CETA employees, parents, and the community, he added.

24 students receive all A's at South JH

Twenty four students at Belleville's South Junior High School have been awarded perfect marks for the first marking period of the second semester of the 1977-78 school year.

Let's communicate

Information and communication were the goals of a gathering recently sponsored for area senior citizens by State Sen. William Faust of Westland (below), who also is Senate Majority Leader. He invited seniors from his 13th District, which includes Wayne, Westland, Canton Township, Belleville, Van Buren, Romulus and Sumpter, to lunch and to hear speakers from numerous service agencies. He invited representatives from the Department of Social Service, Social Security Administration, Department of Treasury, Wayne County Office on Aging, and others to speak to seniors. Also on hand were elected state representatives Robert Law, Thomas Brown, Edward Mahalak, and Bill Keith. — ANP photos.

Officials recognize Older Worker Week

By Jim Bradley
ANP Staff Writer

All five community leaders in the Enterprise-Roman circulation area have designated April 2-8 as Employ the Older Worker Week.

Included in the group praising the job qualities of those 40 and over were Romulus Mayor William M. Oakley, Belleville Mayor Justin Emerson, Supervisor John Puskar of Huron Township, Supervisor Pat Cullin of Van Buren Township and Supervisor Robert Demski of Sumpter Township.

The objective of this annual observance is to make Michigan employers aware of the skills and abilities of those men and women 40 years of age and older who are unemployed or underemployed.

In charge of contacting the five area elected leaders was Mrs. Nina Hulett, older worker specialist, of the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) branch office, 38333 Van Born Rd., Romulus.

"We appreciate very much the cooperation we have received from the elected leaders of these communities in joining with us to see that older workers get equal opportunities in seeking employment," said Mrs. Hulett.

"During the past few years, we've been urged to conserve our natural resources," she added, "however, we often waste one of our most vital resources -- our older workers."

'During the past few years, we've been urged to conserve our natural resources. . .'

In Michigan alone there are more than 2½ million people 45 years of age or older, and of that number almost 1.3 million are part of the state's labor force, either working or seeking work. Older workers account for one-third of the state's work force of 3.9 million.

Despite the emphasis that our society places on youth, ability is really ageless and workers over 40 offer employers skills, judgment, reliability and maturity that come from experience, reported MESC Director S. Martin Taylor.

According to Taylor, workers hired after age 40 attain a higher performance rating in a shorter time than those hired before the age of 30.

Taylor also pointed out: Older workers tend to have a more positive attitude toward work than do younger workers.

Older workers have greater job stability and a better record of continued acceptance by employers once they are hired, and

The number of days lost per 100 workdays for all reasons goes down as age increases.

"In fact," Taylor explained, "workers over 45 quit their jobs less than half as often as younger workers, and they are only half as likely to change jobs as workers under 45.

Mrs. Hulett is an older worker employment specialist which MESC has stationed at most of its Job Service offices. She, like the others, is trained to help the older worker find employment.

Also, these specialists offer personal attention, employment counseling and job referrals with the aid of MESC's computerized job bank.

Taylor also said that MESC is sponsoring a new program called RENEW, a Referral Employment Network of Elderly Workers. The project aims to assist those over 40 find work as well as giving special aid to those over 55.

The MESC is the state's largest public employment agency with more than 210 locations throughout the state of Michigan.

There is no charge to either employer or job seeker for its services. Job Service offices are open from 8:15 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Mrs. Hulett can be reached at the Romulus office by calling 721-5000, Ext. 50.

Editorial opinions

Reflecting public opinion is the Democratic way

A recent issue of one of our out-of-town newspapers contained an editorial opinion headlined, 'U. S. Senator shouldn't be puppet of his constituents'.

The opinion attempted to make a case for the common practice of the elected officials of this country, ignoring in large part, popular opinion, when it conflicted with their own enlightened viewpoint. We strongly disagree.

While no one will argue with the contention that the elected officials of this country are almost always in a better position to make judgments on the important issues of the day, it certainly can be argued that they should never allow public opinion to influence their vote.

The issue in question in the referenced editorial opinion was on the subject of the Panama Canal Treaty negotiations that took place in Washington over the past several weeks.

The writers stated that while it was alright for the senators in Washington to consider the views of their constituents, it was 'improper' for the senators to act as 'puppets' for the nation's voters.

Certainly, not a very controversial position for that paper to take since most of the elected representatives of the people of this country hold the same position.

But, we think the authors of that piece, and the elected officials of this country, are making a serious mistake if they think the democratic course is to ignore legitimate public opinion that may be in opposition to their learned views.

We have never questioned the right, nor obligation of elected leaders, to express positions on the nation's issues. Most often the lawmakers find themselves with little input from constituents on most issues, and on those issues they must obviously vote the way they feel will best serve the country. But, when the citizens of this country, those same citizens that are so very reticent to make their views known, do, then it is time for those elected officials to represent them and to listen carefully.

How else can a democracy function? Are they puppets for representing the collective wisdom of those they have been elected to serve? We think not.

On the contrary, an elected official who is willing to vote in support of his constituents' point of view is in fact truly representing his constituents. We would hope to see more of that very rare breed in Washington.

We urge those U.S. senators and other elected officials, who have represented their constituents with their vote, to continue to serve democracy.

Damned if you do, damned if you don't

When the irate citizens of Romulus stormed city hall in response to their new property tax assessments, they were willing to gun down anyone that stood in their way. And, it apparently mattered little whether the person hit was on their side or in opposition.

Following the charter-required city-wide property tax re-assessment that must be completed every eight years, Romulus citizens found themselves facing unexpected and large tax increases on their homes.

Understandably upset by the prospect of having to budget considerably more money for the tax man, those residents united and went after those they felt were responsible for the new tax bills.

Unfortunately, as often occurs when people react emotionally, the target of the group not only included the city tax assessor, but also the mayor and several other officials.

It is interesting to note that the disgruntled taxpayers went after the mayor even after he had made every attempt to explain the procedure involved in the tax re-assessment, and publically supported the position of the taxpayer's group.

In spite of the fact that the law requires that a certified assessor be solely responsible for the re-assessment, and that assessor must follow state imposed guidelines in completing that task, the taxpayers remain unconvinced.

We feel impelled to support the position that Mayor Oakley assumed on this issue.

While he publicly supported both tax reform and tax limitation, he is unable to effect any change in the recent tax assessments. A change could only be made by state law.

We urge those disgruntled taxpayers of Romulus to join us, the mayor, and their neighbors throughout the state, who are currently attempting to bring a tax reform question to the November ballot.

If just a part of the energy, that went into the march on city hall, were diverted to state-wide tax reform, success would be assured, and all of us would be the happy beneficiaries.

Small business help proposed in H. B. 4358

By THOMAS H. BROWN
State Representative
37th District

If you are a small business person or if you have been considering going in business for yourself, the State of Michigan is developing programs and legislation that will make the critical first few years of operation easier.

It has been estimated that over 30 percent of new businesses are discontinued within the first year of operation, 50 percent within two years, and 60-80 percent prior to the fifth year.

Small businesses are extremely important to the economy of the State and the Nation. They stabilize and stimulate community economic growth, create jobs, and are often innovative leaders within an industry.

The economic impact of small businesses may be understood by considering the following statistics: 50 percent of this country's work force is engaged in small business activities; small businesses account for 43 percent of the gross national product; 97 percent of all retailing firms are classified as small businesses and they account for nearly 50 percent of all retail sales; and small businesses pay about 20 percent of all business taxes.

Many small businesses are started by people with an idea, but who have little business or technical background, training or experience. They usually have limited technical staffs and limited access to management or technical expertise, and thus find it difficult to survive in a rapidly changing, economic, technological and regulatory environment.

There is an indisputable need for a systematic approach to assisting small business people in all aspects of their business endeavors. Some contend that this need can best be met by establishing a statewide program, embodied in a new division within the Department of Commerce, to assist small businesses.

This proposal is contained in House Bill 4358. The bill's provisions would enable the Office of Economic Expansion (which currently deals mainly with large business and industrial concerns) to make a significant impact in providing services which would foster the growth of small businesses in Michigan.

This would be done through the establishment of at least ten small business extension services, for small businesses, built around a nucleus of specialists trained in management and technical fields. The division would also assist the Director of the Department of Commerce who would be required to organize a representative statewide small business advisory council to serve the Division of Small Business Development.

The bill has passed the House of Representatives and is currently in the Committee on State Affairs, in the Senate, awaiting Committee discussion.

Editor's Log

'First you see 'em.....'

By DENNIS FASSETT
Managing Editor

For years I have marveled at the way a common citizen will change after being elected to political office. Some will claim that the change is necessitated by the realities of politics, but I think the change is more often simply a mirror of the new politician's character deficiency.

It apparently matters little what level of political office is involved. We find men and women of almost every ilk, quickly molding themselves to the form that they come to believe is characteristic of the position they hold, rather than simply being themselves. And that is where the great loss occurs.

But, for a very few professional politicians, elected office often comes quite unexpectedly. Usually, a person in the community will make a decision to get involved, only to help resolve a situation they feel is detrimental to society. And that decision comes only after agonizing over the question. But, what happened to those same good people after they find themselves elected to represent their neighbors?

Unfortunately, many of those people soon discover that there are unwritten rules among elected officials, and to violate those rules, is to jeopardize friendship with the inner circle. And, consequently, most fall into line with the existing order, and are rarely heard from again.

While many newly-elected officials would vocally defend principle, they often find that political compromise, that may occasionally run 'cross-grain' to their true feelings, becomes necessary in order to retain friendships.

In all fairness, it is at best, extremely difficult for a politician to remain his own man. Given the large number of people that may have either worked or financially supported the candidates quest for office, the newly-elected officials are almost always subjected to special interest pressure. Of course, the degree of pressure is directly related to the level of office that that candidate has won. But, understandable or not, yielding to outside influences is not what we pay our elected officials for.

Other considerations, that may lead to a politician's convenient compromise of his principles, is the mistaken belief that he may have been naive about the political arena.

A look at the history of your area will reveal that many of the men or women who were elected to office were just not capable of handling the responsibility that went along with the job.

That type of person was easily recognizable by their lack of participation at decision making sessions, or their over participation.

By and large, the elected officials who have come to understand and accept their responsibilities to the community, usually will play a middle-of-the-road role during the proceedings. They will have learned that rhetoric alone will not convince anyone of their dedication.

What happens to elected officials after they have gained the office they have sought?

I believe, that in local government, the good representative of the community is a rare bird indeed.

It requires a special sort of person to be willing to effectively represent. He or she must put aside special interest, self interest and family interest. They must be willing to accept the accolades as well as the criticisms.

According to many, there is a fine line between prostitution and compromise.

If the elected official is unable to distinguish between the two, he is probably not well suited to the occupation, because one man's politician may well be another man's prostitute.

Gardner

It's time for us to change our ways

By JOHN W. GARDNER

"How can we avoid blowing ourselves up?"

The short answer is that we can't avoid it if we follow the old ways of doing things. We're going to have to find some new ways to resolve conflict peacefully.

After millennia of bloodshed the goal seems unreachable—but until this century nobody really tried very hard. We've operated for centuries on the principle of self-preservation for the rich and the powerful, but that won't work any more. Now our fates are linked one with another, and if we save ourselves, we will do it together.

Most of us think of peace as something passive and uneventful—a happy vacuum. If we conceive of it in that fashion, we shall never have it. We cannot abolish conflict, nor would we wish to.

The whole history of law and much of the history of government has been an attempt to deal in a civil fashion with human conflict, to hold it within bounds, and to resolve it peacefully within a framework of order. This is justice done and the peace preserved.

If we do not blow ourselves up, we shall construct a peaceful world in much the same fashion—by painstakingly putting together the institutional arrangements which permit the ebb and flow of conflict and tension within a framework of order.

We must build on a few values shared among nations, leaving to individual nations broad freedom to pursue their own vision of the moral order.

The prime value on which we must build is preservation of the species and the planet. It would sound far more lofty if I were to say we build on the sanctity of life, but what we can perhaps agree on is that we want to save humankind, the endangered species, and Earth, the endangered planet.

The second value we can build on is justice. That may sound like an exceptionally abstract principle to place next to the powerfully moving value of self-preservation. But of all social values that humans have celebrated, none is more ancient and universal than justice. We know of few societies, ancient or modern, primitive or civilized, that have not had some concept of fair play. The hunger for justice reaches deep into the human psyche.

Next, I would list the worth of the individual, and I would include in that phrase the release of human potentialities, the enhancement of individual dignity, removal of the obstacles to individual growth and fulfillment. None of these are possible in a world of ignorance, hunger, disease, lack of opportunity, nor in a world of tyranny.

Finally, I would list a recognition and respect for our common humanity, a respect for those who are not of my village, tribe, nation, language, race or religion. Our old human habit is to form groups and draw circles around them. If you're inside the circle, you're one of "us," you're innocent until proven guilty, you're human as I am human. If you're outside the group, you're one of "them." You're probably untrustworthy. You have to be watched because you may turn dangerous at any moment.

Every modern nation is a composite of earlier tribalisms and fierce regional loyalties, most of which have given way to national identity. With a new consciousness of our shared responsibility for our small planet—Spaceship Earth—it is not inconceivable that the same process might occur world-wide. But only if we work at it.

Our planet is but a speck of dust in the universe, and our life on it is but an instant in the long stretch of astrophysical time. Still, it is the only planet we have and our life on it holds great possibilities of beauty and dignity and meaning. Yet if it were asked of us how we spend our instant of time on our speck of dust, we would have to say, "We spend a good deal of it fighting one another and laying waste our earth." Surely we can do better.

Reflections

UFO flap

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN

UFO's are back. You might even say we are having another UFO flap. People are standing on corners pointing to the sky and no matter what drugstore at which you are grabbing a cup of coffee there is bound to be someone who tells you about the flying saucer he saw just last night.

Even Professor Hynek (who used to be with Project Blue Book) confesses that he didn't mean a thing when he came to Michigan a few years ago and said that the flying saucer which landed in a farmer's field was nothing but marsh gas.

That poor farmer has been insisting to neighbors ever since that he did not sniff too much marsh gas and that the burned spot in his field wasn't caused by a bonfire.

Even though UFO's have been hovering around for eons, there are still people like my neighbor who say, "Bring me physical evidence. If there's no physical evidence then there is no such thing."

People like that wouldn't believe, anyway, because most of the time they don't even know what physical evidence is. Like the time a few years ago when my neighbor was out in his backyard, and a flying saucer zoomed down and began eating electricity from the power line.

He took a broom to it.

"No one is going to steal MY electricity?" he shouted, and this was before the energy crisis.

A door opened in the craft and a little green man scooted down a laser beam and swooped my neighbor into his vehicle and it took off.

A few hours later the craft again landed in his backyard and the door opened and my neighbor was shoved out on the grass.

"Well, where have you been?" I asked him.

"It seems that I was in a flying saucer and taken to the moon," he answered. "What do you mean seems?" I asked.

"There is no physical evidence that it happened," he said.

"What's that you are holding in your hand?" I asked him.

He looked at it slowly and then he looked up. "It appears to be green cheese," he said.

Brushing himself off he went in the house and put the cheese in a mouse trap.

And it was gobbled up by a mouse who didn't know moon cheese from earth cheese...and didn't care because the trap broke his neck anyhow.

Bald Eagle Speaks

Reporter's Cross

By BOB AMEEN

It has been said that once the newspaper business gets into one's blood, that it's there to stay.

After many years in the field of journalism, I can attest to that. I can also vouch for the fact that if the foregoing was not true, the many trials and tribulations which crop up during a newspaperman's career would prompt him to choose a different occupation.

For example, anyone who has ever worked on the editorial staff of a newspaper knows of the persons who call to criticize those new stories which appear in print and question why such and such other stories do not.

A call comes into the society department asking that a marriage announcement or marriage license not be printed. The reason? You guessed it. The girl (the caller's daughter) is pregnant and the announcement or license in the paper would date the coming baby and prove embarrassing to the family.

Often times, a reporter's good memory will reveal that this caller is the same person who has called previously on several occasions to raise the roof because certain stories are not being printed! Alas, such is human nature!

Another example. A routine check of funeral homes in the area indicates an individual died at such and such a time on such and such a day, etc. Only later does further investigation disclose that the deceased individual committed suicide! Which all goes to prove that in the newspaper game, one must often look behind the scenes to get the true story. And, again human nature, being what it is, this would have resulted in a big snafu for the newspaper had not further checking been done.

Still another instance of events that cause a reporter's hair to turn gray - misquotes. Reporters go to council meetings, school board sessions and other get-togethers. They faithfully write down highlights of what went on at the meeting, including verbatim statements made by certain individuals.

But, when the story is printed in the paper's next edition, what happens? If the story being reported is controversial, chances are the individual who is quoted will call in, ask for the managing editor, and vehemently deny he said any such thing as reported in the story!

As often as not, this causes the poor reporter to develop ulcers, pull his or her hair out, threaten to find another line of work, or determine that individual's next remarks will be recorded on tape.

What can cause a managing editor and/or reporter to age beyond their years is the person who calls the paper to inquire angrily why a certain story was not in the current edition. After being patiently told that it is the paper's prerogative whether to print any story or picture, that sometimes stories get bumped by higher priority happenings, that there was no room, etc., this irate individual threatens to call all of his friends in business and tell them to pull out their advertising if the story is not used in the next edition.

Such are some of the ups and downs of the newspaper profession, at least from the viewpoints of the editorial and advertising departments.

On the Brighter Side

Pansy always wins

By JIM BRADLEY

Many people who have brains lack common sense.

Common sense just doesn't seem to be common anymore.

Why is this?

Despite our great educational growth there is a dearth of "using your noodle", as the old timers were apt to say.

The other day I purchased one of those "vocabulary improvement" self-help books at the store and eagerly read the first few pages. There was a test to show where you stood at the beginning.

Calling to my wife, Pansy, (that's her real name, flower lovers!) I challenged her to take the first exam with me. When she spotted words like tenuous, turgid, contumely, judiciousness, dolorous, dequipedalian, and the like, she politely confessed her ignorance and declined. Bravely I pursued knowledge.

Was the test hard? You bet!

After much thought, study and guesswork, I finished the exam and asked the little woman to check my score. "You got a mark of 41," she said. I radiated pride when I read the author's statement that the average college grade on that test was 27.

While I was taking this college quiz, my wife finished a test in Reader's Digest magazine that checked your "powers of persuasion". She had eight correct out of ten, but the best I could muster was five right. "Guess I can persuade better than you," she laughed.

"Yes, you persuaded me to walk to the altar with you," I said.

"Only because I felt sorry for you," she reminded me.

Wouldn't you know it? She beats me almost every time on things like quizzes. In Scrabble competition, she has something like a 15-game winning streak over the past few years.

I just can't beat her. It's the same with other games at home. Common sense wins for her. I'm the one with the college diploma, but she "uses her head" to defeat me.

In the game of life it's not how much education you have, but how you use what you have that counts.

I know some farmers who reason much better than college professors. Slaves have shown more common sense in various matters at times than their masters. Poor men have reached the top by diligently using the knowledge they possess. I read the other day that H.L. Hunt, one of the richest men the world has ever known, only went through the fourth grade.

The Bible says, "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom". Some people don't even begin to employ wisdom. On the other hand, some highly educated, intellectual "eggheads" seem to think they can get along without God by "replacing" Him with human wisdom and reasoning.

In this age of technological know-how, mechanical genius and computers, most people would be a lot better off if they just used a little of that so common, common sense.

Health Beat

Sue Archambault, RN, and Jiapa, Ghana

By RUSS TUTTLE
Director, Community Relations
Peoples Community Hospital Authority

It's several thousand miles from the Village of Jiapa in the Nation of Ghana to the City of Wayne and the Annapolis Hospital.

A nurse who works in the Annapolis ER, Sue Archambault, RN, lived and worked in the primitive environment of Jiapa for almost 12 months in 1975 and 1976.

Ms. Archambault comes from a family dedicated to medicine. Her father, Rene Archambault, MD, for many years operated the Nankin Hospital on Michigan Avenue in Wayne. Nankin Hospital — located immediately to the West of this newspaper building — no longer functions as a hospital and is being renovated to serve as an apartment building.

Her uncle, another physician, worked as a medical missionary in Jiapa for 15 years.

"Uncle Henry would come home once in a while, and from listening to him, I soon learned that the people of Ghana were in desperate need of medical care.

"I had nothing really to offer as a high school graduate," said the attractive young nurse from Wayne, "so after I graduated from Ladywood High School in Livonia I went to the University of Michigan where I earned a BS in Nursing. Now I felt I was prepared to make a genuine contribution to these wonderful people."

Ghana is an ancient empire in Africa located in the area known as West Mali. It was a republic within the British Commonwealth, and it flourished between the 4th and 13th centuries.

Providence has not been kind to this nation since the 1400's, and today it is essentially a primitive land populated with people who know poverty and deprivation beyond anything known in the United States.

It was to this uncivilized country, at least by the standards we enjoy, that Sue Archambault took her nursing skills.

"We were supposed to have running water in our bungalow, but that wasn't always the case. There was electricity four hours a day allowing us to run the operating room. And sometimes our generator would malfunction and our life in the operating room would become complicated."

She had to learn the language of the village — a dialect known as Dagari — so that she might communicate with the natives.

"There were two other nurses working with me," she said. "One a nun from Ireland, and the other a Canadian lay nurse. Usually there was only one surgeon in the village hospital, although at different times two others would be around to help."

She was paid 80 Cedi per month by the government. This translates to about 20 American dollars.

"Although the Cedi was not, and is not, on the international money market, and thus was worthless outside of Ghana, we were able to live well enough because everything was so cheap in the village market. For instance, several pounds of peanuts cost about one cent," she said.

Peanuts were a vital part of the diet — they provided essential protein — along with a food called Seabo which was ground from millet, a staple in the village diet.

"We also ate wild leaves, berries, and yes, even snake meat."

She said that snake bite was a common event and related how one time as she was walking from her bungalow to the hospital she almost stepped on a huge Cobra. (If I ever had any thoughts of going to Ghana, that statement convinced me that Western Wayne County is all right after all!)

"Obviously we could not always observe the niceties of the Western World. It was necessary for me to diagnose, prescribe medicines, suture wounds, and in general perform many procedures which by law can only be performed by a physician in America."

When not in the operating room or working as a bedside nurse in the 250-bed village hospital, she and her two other nurses taught classes to the natives.

"Our weekly classes addressed the need for personal hygiene, sanitation, prevention of being afflicted by the Guinea worm, and nutrition."

"When you recognize that the people had, at best, a fifth or sixth grade education, and it was only a few who even achieved that level of education; most were illiterate, you can appreciate just how difficult it was to teach these classes."

Sue Archambault did something which many of us say we would like to do, but somehow never get around to accomplishing.

She gave of herself and her talents to help people not as fortunate as she.

I like to believe that our world might be a better place to live if we had more people like this dedicated nurse to serve as our models.

Introduced at meeting

Pack 739 has new committee members

Cub Scout Pack 729 of Merriman Elementary School in Romulus has some new members on its committee.

Introduced at the March 21 pack meeting by Cubmaster Paul C. Michael were the charter members of himself, Mrs. Donna Carter as committee chairman, Mrs. Gaye Farris as secretary, Bruce Redman as treasurer, Alice Stratton as outings director, John Dubyak as advancement man, Mrs. Barbara Schuster as den leader coach, as public relations person. A new member on the scene was the Webelos den leader, Wally Caba.

At the meeting the Cubs lined up and were graded for their uniform dress and appearance during an inspection.

A candlelight ceremony then was held for new Cub Scouts David Schuster and Ivan Nausley. The Webelos also welcomed a new member into their group — D.J. Buksar — by carrying him over their heads while cheering.

Awards also were presented. In the Webelos Den patches went to Ben Zeestraten, forester and outdoorsman; Bobby O'Bryan, forester and outdoorsman; Frank Gondek, forester and outdoorsman; Robert Harrison, forester and outdoorsman; Phillip Slaughter, forester and outdoorsman; and Will Cianfarani, forester and outdoorsman.

In Den 1 awards went to Stanley Carter, one gold and two silver arrows; Kerry Caba, one gold and two silver arrows; Mark Stoyhoff, Wolf badge, one gold and one silver arrows and denner's cord; and Thomas Redman, Wolf badge, one gold and one silver arrows and assistant denner's cord.

In Den 2 awards went to Sean Farnan, assistant denner's cord; Richard Zeestraten, denner's cord, and D. J. Buksar, Bear patch and one silver arrow.

In Den 3 the awards went to Gary Harrison, denner's cord; Bobby Langley, assistant denner's cord; and John Gondek, one-year pin.

In Den 4 the awards went to Brian Bales, denner's cord; Mary Dubyak, assistant Denner's cord; and Kevin Farris, recruiter's patch.

After the awards presentation a raffle was held, with the first prize being transistor radio, won by the daughter of the den mother, Nina Caba, of Den 1. The second prize was a boy's wallet, won by Stanley Carter, also of Den 1.

Entertainment was provided by Den 3, with Sandra Langley as den mother. The youngsters did a skit, entitled "The Cub Scout Circus". The audience was asked to sing a song to accompany the Cubs as they marched in dressed in circus costumes.

At the meeting the Cubs also were given their Pinewood Derby kits to put together. The races will be held in April.

Other items of interest included Scout-O-Rama tickets, which the Cubs received and will be selling. The event will be held in June at the State Fairgrounds in Detroit.

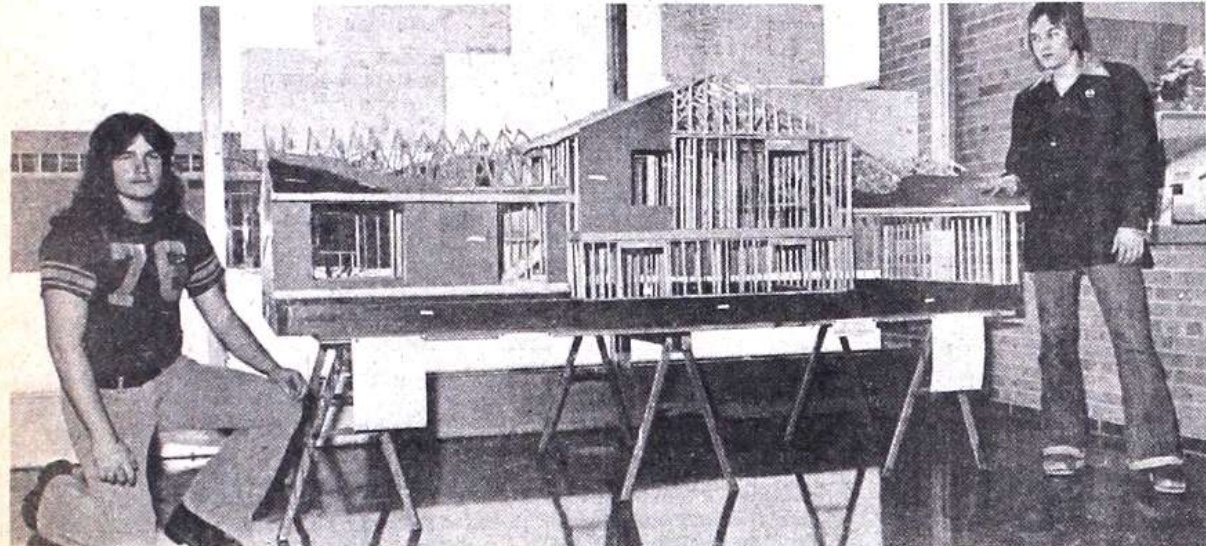

Another paper drive also is being organized by Alice Stratton, so save your papers for the Scouts of Pack 739.

The pack also will be hosting a Tupperware party at the home of Nina Lee Caba at 7:30 p.m. April 18. Profits from the sales will help the pack in its outings and activities.

A flea market also is in the offing for May 6 at Merriman Elementary School. It will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

And finally, the Cubs' April outing will be to the Pontiac Silverdome April 9, where they will see the rodeo.

Model students

These two building trades students at Romulus High School believe vocational education is helping them prepare for future employment. Dave Lenderman (left) and Tony Cholette stand beside a scale model replica of a house being built at 37625 Tyler Road in Romulus. The house, in the $50,000 range, will be sold to the highest bidder and an open house will be held at the location in the near future to show off the handiwork of the Building Trades class.

Meet stresses paralegal work

A paralegal training seminar, focusing on services for senior citizens, will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. April 4 and 5 at the Wayne County Community College Greenfield Center.

The two-day program will be led by Paula Heichel of Technical Assistance for Legal Services, a Washington-based program specializing in training paralegals and funded by the Administration on Aging.

Topics to be covered will include Social Security, Supplemental Security Income (SSI), Medicare, Medicaid and food stamps. The training will be aimed at paralegals, senior citizen volunteers, outreach workers and others working with older clients.

The event is sponsored by the Michigan Office of Services to the Aging and the American Association of Retired Persons.

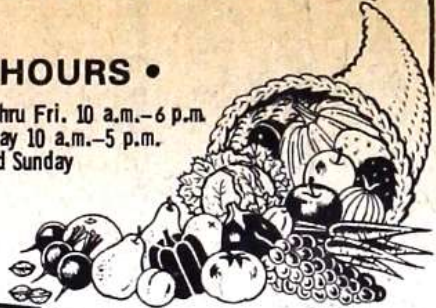

Admission and materials for the Paralegal Training Seminar will be provided free.

For further information contact Peggy Nelson at the Wayne County Community College Offices of Community Services-Continuing Education at 832-4750.

The timely message of repentance

The Old Testament is filled with accounts of the rebellion and disobedience of Israel, God's Church for that period. What beautiful, glorious beginnings He gave so many, including Adam and Eve, only to see them turn away to a way of their own. But, since "it is not His will that any should perish", forgiveness and restoration was offered again and again through Repentance. Obviously, this was the great message of the day.

What about the New Testament dispensation? First, let's see what the word "repentance" means. The devil has always had a modernistic Pharisee around who "makes the Word of God of none effect". Webster's dictionary defines it as "sorrow for sin". The Bible said "all have sinned and come short of the glory of God". John the Baptist, the forerunner of Jesus, didn't baptize everyone who came to him. One certain group he called a "generation of vipers" and told them to first show some "fruits", or evidence of genuine representation. (Matt. 3:7, 8).

The message of Christ himself was: "The Kingdom of God is at hand: Repent and believe the Gospel" (Mark 1:15). His instructions to the Disciples was the same. Also, after His Resurrection, his message for the Apostles and the New Testament Church was "that Repentance and remission of sins should be preached in all nations" (Luke 24:47).

Today there are lots of substitutes offered, but the most timely message is repentance. We are seeing the most heinous sins ever committed. Instead of shame, the sins of Sodom and Gomorrah are coming to the front on television and everywhere. As in Noah's day "the thoughts of men's hearts are evil continually". Jesus said: "Thus shall it be in the last days". Oh, what a need today for many Ministers and churches to repent! God's remedy is found in Second Chronicles 7:14: "If my people, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven, and will heal their land."

Remember, it was the Lord who shut the door of Noah's ark. Jesus is our ark of safety, and one day the Lord will extend his last ounce of mercy and will raise up and close the door of repentance.

According to the Bible the vast majority will be lost in hell. (Read Mathew 7:13, 14). By experience I have proven God. I have tried both ways. Because one day I repented of my sins and accepted Christ, I already am enjoying a full life that will greatly increase someday. God's last words in the Bible: "Whoever will, let him take the Water of Life freely!"

Senior bus trip reservations open

Reservations now are being accepted by the Wayne County Office on Aging for its senior citizen bus trip program.

Under the program, the Office on Aging will subsidize up to $100 on any one-day bus trip. Funds for the project are made available through a grant by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

Since the program's inception in July 1976, more than 500 trips have been scheduled. This represents more than 20,000 seniors throughout Wayne County who have been served by the program.

Trips will begin on April 17 and continue until the funding allocation is exhausted. Each senior citizen group will be allowed to take two trips during the year.

It is the group's decision where it wishes to travel. However, the trip must cover a minimum round-trip distance of 50 miles.

The Office on Aging will be responsible for chartering a bus. Groups are expected to make any additional arrangements.

For further information, call 224-0956.

HAROLD REDISKE JR.

Should I consider anything less than a full-service funeral?

Generally, the full-service funeral best meets the needs of the bereaved, as well as providing for the deceased. It is a declaration of death, as well as a testimonial to a life. The full-service funeral is also a ritual of deeply profound psychological significance in our civilized society. It was Gladstone, the famous English statesman, who wisely said: "Show me the manner in which a nation or community cares for its dead and I will measure with mathematical exactness the tender sympathies of its people, their respect for the law of the land, and their loyalty to high ideals." We are living in an age of great change and progress. While many customs are influenced by the times, the full-service funeral has not been much altered. Progress has refined techniques and procedures, but the high ideals to which Gladstone refers have not been minimized or compromised. Man still buries his dead with ceremony and dignity. Your choice of a full-service funeral demonstrates the tender sympathy and respect for the high ideals of which Gladstone would greatly approve. Call or stop by for our literature concerning our full-service capabilities and counseling.

According to Att. Gen. Kelly

Collections: There's guidelines

By ATT. GEN. FRANK KELLEY

(This is one of a series of public service articles explaining, in general terms, a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult with a private attorney.)

The collection of past due debts is hardly ever a pleasant experience for any of the parties involved. But if you are a person who has suffered a financial setback, or a company that uses a collection agency for overdue bills, you should know that there is a Michigan law which is designed to provide guidelines and protection for everyone involved.

It is called the Collection Practices Act of 1974. The act provides for the licensing and regulation of collection agencies operating in Michigan that make collections on claims arising out of personal, family, or household purchases. The act also regulates the practices of those collecting their own debts in their own name, although it does not require them to be licensed.

The law has some built-in safeguards to protect those who the agencies attempt to collect from. The aim of the law is to prevent possible harassment or embarrassment. Under the act, collection agencies are absolutely prohibited from the use of any kind of threat. This includes the use of any type of obscene or profane language, name-calling, or threats of a physical nature.

This prohibition against threats also extends to legal action. A collection agency may not threaten any kind of legal action against a person it is trying to collect from, unless it has been specifically authorized to undertake that action on behalf of its client. A collection agency cannot mislead an individual by implying in any way that there exists an association with a government agency. This includes using a person acting as a peace or law enforcement officer, or any other officer authorized to serve legal papers.

The act offers further protection from harassment or embarrassment by preventing collection agencies from contacting a debtor's employer about the person's debt.

The provisions of the act not only protect a person who is the subject of an attempt to collect by a collection agency, they also protect businesses who use collection agencies for overdue bills. Because of this law, companies can employ collection agencies with the assurance that the methods used in the collection will not alienate customers or give the company a bad reputation.

The act contains other provisions which serve as safeguards for companies using collection agencies.

Under this law collection agencies are not required to have a licensed collection agency manager, if the owner is not managing the office. In the case of an owner-manager the licensing of the agency is all that is required. In both cases you can be sure that the manager or owner-manager is a person who is licensed by the director of licensing and regulation, who has experience in the field, and who has passed a test covering laws and practices in the field.

The manager or owner-manager is issued an identification card by the director of licensing and regulation that he must have in his immediate possession while working, and that he must show upon request.

The law also provides that the money collected by an agency goes into a special trust account maintained only for that purpose. This way a company can be sure that it will receive the money from the bills collected for it.

Except for the licensing and trust account requirements, anyone or any company collecting their own debts in their own name must comply with the provisions of the Collection Practices Act. This includes the prohibition against harassment, contacting an employer about a debt, etc.

If you feel you have been the victim of a violation of this law, you can file a written complaint with the director of the Department of Licensing and Regulation. The address is Department of Licensing and Regulation, Collection Agency Division, 920 S. Washington Avenue, Lansing 48926.

Anyone found violating this law can be fined and made to pay both the state and the victim of the violation. An individual who can prove he is a victim of a willful violation of this law can be awarded three times actual damages or $150, whichever is greater. Plus, a reasonable attorney fee and court costs incurred in connection with the action can also be awarded. The Department of Licensing and Regulation may also suspend or revoke a license for violations of the act.

In summary, the Michigan Collection Practices Act of 1974 is a good law for everyone involved in the collection of debts.

USAF assists medicine

Medical science is benefiting from Air Force research: Sensor devices, used to monitor body functions during Air Force test flights and space environment experiments, have been adapted for civilian medical uses. The biosensors allow medical specialists to monitor several patients at a central station, providing a constant observation and warning system.

Beef up a menu

Are you looking for a change in your main dish? Why not give variety meats a try this week. "They offer new flavors, high nutritive value and generally low cost," said Retha Hankey, home economist for the Michigan Beef Industry Commission.

There is little waste to variety meats as there is no extra bone or fat on these cuts, she added, saying that a variety of sauces and seasonings compliment variety meat flavors and add an element of adventure to everyday meals.

There are seven basic variety meats, including liver, heart, tongue, brains, tripe, sweatbreads and kidney. Each varies as to flavor and tenderness as well as price.

According to Miss Hankey: "Liver is especially high in iron and B vitamins and can be prepared in a variety of ways, including spreads, loaves, casseroles, deep fried and many more."

Tongue and heart are less tender cuts requiring low, slow cooking in some type of liquid. Dress up a heart with a savory stuffing. Tongue can be served fresh, pickled or smoked.

Although other variety meats may not be available regularly at your supermarket, ask your butcher to get them for you. You will find that they are an interesting item on your menu.

Here are a couple of variety meat recipes for you to try. For additional variety meat recipes, write the Michigan Beef Industry Commission, 805 Stoddard Building, Lansing.

SUPER LIVER SLICES

1 1/2 pound beef liver, sliced approx 3/4 inches thick
1 cup fine bread crumbs
2 teaspoons paprika
1 Tablespoon minced parsley
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup Thousand Island dressing

Combine bread crumbs, paprika, minced parsley, salt and pepper. Spread liver slices on both sides with Thousand dressing. Dredge in seasoned crumbs to coat thoroughly. Place breaded liver on greased jelly roll pan. Bake, uncovered, in hot oven (400 degrees) for 12 to 15 minutes. Serve hot. (Six servings.)

SCOTCHSTEAK AND KIDNEY PIE

1 pound beef round steak
1 beef kidney
1/4 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
3 Tablespoons cooking fat
1 medium onion, chopped
1/4 cup chopped pimento
2 Tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1 1/2 cups water
pastry for crust

Cut round steak in 3/4 to 1 inch cubes. Remove tubes and fat from kidney and cut in 3/4 to 1 inch cubes. Combine flour, salt and pepper; dredge steak and kidney cubes (reserving extra flour) and brown in cooking fat. Remove meat from frying pan. Add onion to cooking fat and cook until transparent. Pour off cooking fat, add pimiento, Worcestershire sauce, thyme and water to onion in frying pan and bring to boil. Stir in browned meat cubes and any remaining seasoned flour. Invert 9-inch pie plate over pastry rolled to about 1/8 inch thickness. Cut a circle about an inch from rim of plate for top crust. Cut a design in crust to allow steam to escape. Cut a second circle about 3/4 inch from edge of top crust to provide pastry to circle edge of pie plate. Moisten edge of plate and top with outer circle of pastry, adjusting to fit. Turn meat mixture into pie plate and cover with top crust. Seal top pastry to edge and flute. Bake in a slow oven (325 Degrees) for 1 1/2 hours. (Six to eight servings.)

TODAY'S Real Estate

by M. Phyllis Crabtree

The first step in selling a house is to prepare the house carefully for inspection by prospective buyers. First impressions are important; they have a lasting effect on the would-be buyer. The first impression is often based on the outside appearance of your house. You simply cannot rely on the buyer falling in love with the interior of the house. In fact, he may never stop to look unless he finds the exterior pleasing. Does it need a coat of paint? A little landscaping? Now is the time to do it. We can give you some solid advice on what items need attention.

You needn't be a real estate tycoon to rely on CENTURY 21 COMMUNITY REALTORS, 10675 Belleville Rd. A neat lawn and well-cared for shrubbery are what make the outside of your house look interesting to would-be buyers.

Gasoline sales revenues edge up in waning 1977

Gasoline sales in Michigan edged up 2.7 percent in the last quarter of 1977 compared with the same three months a year earlier, according to the State Highway Commission.

The small increase — less than half the 6.1 percent growth between the same quarters of 1975 and 1976 — probably reflects increased registrations of lighter weight vehicles and improved engine performance.

Revenues from the nine-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax totaled $103,171,559 in the October-December 1977 period, an increase of $2,679,323 over the same period in 1976. In that same time period, the seven-cent-a-gallon diesel fuel tax produced $6,106,982, up by $506,036, or nine percent, accounting for an overall three percent increase in motor fuel tax revenues.

Weight taxes from the sale of license plates to resident motorists totaled $28,282,586, an increase of $2,128,913, or 8.1 percent. The great bulk of license plate sales takes place between Jan. 1 and March 31, the deadline for license plate renewals.

Fuel and weight taxes, plus interest earned and miscellaneous revenues, produced $142,516,379 for Michigan's Motor Vehicle Highway Fund, an increase of $5,599,379, or 4.1 percent.

Proceeds are being distributed to the state, the counties and municipalities after deductions of $13,549,476 for various grants and collection costs.

Wayne County collected $6,834,490 during the fourth quarter of 1977, up from the 1976 figure of $6,661,715.

The amounts local municipalities collected were:

— Belleville, $9,083 in the fourth quarter of 1977 as opposed to the 1976 figure of 8,683;

— Inkster, $134,456 for the 1977 fourth quarter, up from $128,549 in 1976;

— Romulus, $99,612 in the fourth quarter of 1977 as opposed to $94,844 for the same time period in 1976;

— Wayne, $75,370 for the fourth quarter of 1977, up from the 1976 figure of $72,076 in 1976; and — Westland, $303,575 in the fourth quarter of 1977 as opposed to $289,165 in 1976.

Twin operas to air on 56

"Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci," two operas that have traditionally been performed together, will air over Channel 56 live from New York's Metropolitan Opera House Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Known to opera buffs as "Cav-Pag," the two operas tell the stories of personal passions that end in tragedy. Both are unusual in that they take place among working people whose lives are filled with the drudgery of peasant life.

This idea of creating opera from the experiences of non-aristocratic people was relatively unknown in the early history of opera. In "Cav-Pag," however, characters of low social rank are seen as having feelings on a aristocratic scale. This highly emotional style of opera is known as "verismo," or "realism."

Irony and violence are the dramatic hallmarks of "Cav-Pag." "Cavalleria Rusticana" means "rustic chivalry" but the story that follows deals with adultery and murderous revenge. Even more ironic, the violent action takes place on Easter morning, a highly sacred time in rural Sicily.

In Plymouth center probe

Commissioner urges citizen cooperation

Wayne County Commissioner Edgar L. Harris (D-Taylor) is urging anyone with information about possible child abuse at the Plymouth Center for Human Development to contact the Wayne County Citizens Grand Jury.

Harris made his request after the Wayne County Circuit Court bench voted to encourage persons with information to submit it to the grand jury.

The judges acted after Harris and fellow Commissioner Thomas Presnell (D-Westland) called for a grand jury investigation of alleged widespread abuses at the Plymouth Center, a state facility for the retarded.

Harris said he was disappointed that the judges did not order a "full scale grand jury investigation," but did describe the bench's action as "the next best thing."

"Chief Judge Richard Dunn pointed out that the grand jury has the authority to pursue any leads that call for its unique powers, and that the term of the existing grand jury can be midst of an investigation," Harris added.

Dunn said the judges declined to go that far in view of the fact that the State Attorney General, the State Police and the Governor had started investigations. Dunn, however, urged anyone with information to submit it to the grand jury. He pointed out that the option of a full-scale grand jury probe remains open, if information appears to warrant the probe.

Harris and Presnell argued that the grand jury would be the most effective investigative tool in the face of pressure on Plymouth Center employees to "cover up". They cited the grand jury's powers to compel testimony, grant immunity from prosecution and maintain confidentiality until indictments are handed down.

Information concerning the case should be sent to the Foreman, Citizens Grand Jury, P.O. Box 30, Detroit 48232.

Time is running out on purchasing license plate tabs

Time is running out for persons who don't yet have their 1978 license plates tabs, according to a reminder issued by Michigan Secretary of State Richard H. Austin.

Austin noted: "Now that the mail-order program has ended for this year, the only way to buy tabs is by going in to a Secretary of State branch office and standing in line."

"In some branches, the crowds still are fairly light... but with the April 1 deadline about a week off, the lines are rapidly growing bigger. A person who waits until tomorrow to go in will have a longer wait than today. Each day of delay means a longer wait. It's that simple."

Austin also reminded: "To buy your tabs, you'll need to present either the prepared application form you were sent in the mail earlier this year, or your 1977 registration, or your vehicle title. In addition, you'll need to show proof of insurance.

"Your check or money order should be made out to the State of Michigan."

After April 1, all vehicles on the road must display their 1978 license tabs. Since the March 31 deadline falls on a Friday this year, persons who fail to get their tabs in time will have to keep their vehicles off the streets for the entire weekend in order to escape being ticketed and having their cars towed away.

More than 3 million vehicle owners still have not bought their new tabs.

Guided walks offered

Looking for a secluded place to have a nature trip this spring? Try the three-quarter mile nature trail at Hudson Mills Metropark near Ann Arbor and Dexter.

Groups (a minimum size of 10 to a maximum size of 35) can make arrangements in advance to have a naturalist guided walk on Tuesdays at 10 and 11:30 a.m. and 1 or 3 p.m. A specific nature theme may be requested.

Group appointments for naturalist services are made through the HCMA Detroit Office at 961-5865 (Detroit).

County creates own EDC

Seeks 'jobby' development

Wayne County soon can help local communities compete more successfully for job-producing development. That's the word from Wayne County Commissioner Thomas Presnell of Westland, following creation of the Wayne County Economic Development Corporation (EDC).

Presnell, a member of the commissioners' Public Works Committee, made his prediction following unanimous approval of the EDC plan at a recent meeting of the County Board of Commissioners.

Presnell said the EDC will work with the 43 cities and townships in the county in maintaining existing business and bringing in new businesses.

He described the EDC as "one of the necessary tools for competing with neighboring states" in wooing business development. He predicted the Wayne County EDC will be functioning by the summer building season.

Economic development corporations are independent, non-profit bodies designed to stimulate local industrial and commercial development. An EDC has the authority to sell revenue bonds to help finance industrial and commercial growth. It also is eligible for federal grants.

The ordinance authorizing the Wayne County EDC still must be approved by Gov. William Milliken. That is expected to take less than 60 days.

Then the Board of Commissioners will select the nine-member EDC board of directors, composed of Wayne County residents no more than three of whom can be county employees.

Speaking on behalf of the county board, Presnell said: "We are anxious to get the EDC in operation to realize the potential for economic development that exists in Wayne County. To realize that goal, we must seek out all phases of diversified industries which will provide a good basis for still further growth."

Since the 1974 passage of State Act 338, which provides for the formation of local EDC's, 70 municipalities — including more than 10 counties — have established these business growth agencies throughout the state.

A required by the state law, the formal petition for a Wayne County EDC was made by citizens — Joseph E. Stermer, executive director of the Southern Wayne County Chamber of Commerce; Wilson C. Grier, Northville Township supervisor; and H. Fred Campbell, president, Campbell Development Co., Detroit.

The state also can help local communities with the logistics of setting up EDC's through its Office of Economic Expansion (Michigan Department of Commerce) which has set-up regional offices to aid economic growth.

Although the process for setting up a Wayne County EDC has been set in motion, Presnell pointed out that many details remain to be worked out before the office can become a reality.

ACS forms own home care course

In response to the need so frequently expressed by families caring for a member who has cancer, the American Cancer Society has developed a Home Care Course which convenes every Tuesday at the Brightmoor Community Center, 14451 Burt Road, Detroit. This course is free and is designed to teach family members simple nursing skills and techniques necessary to give effective, safe and quality health care to home bound patients.

The on-going five-week course consists of one two-hour class per week. Topics covered will be maintenance of the basic health needs of the person with cancer, medication and pain control, demonstration and the opportunity to practice specific techniques. Meeting the psychological needs of both the family and the patient also will be included. One class will be devoted to managing individual problems of the people attending these classes.

To register for the course or for more information, call Patient Services at the American Cancer Society, 336-0030. Classes will be limited to 20 people caring for cancer patients at home.

Zecman nets airman first class ranking

The U.S. Air Force has promoted Karl G. Zecman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Zecman of Belle Villa, Belleville, to the rank of airman first class.

Airman Zecman is serving at Blytheville Air Force Base, Ark., as a bomb-navigation systems mechanic.

The airman is a 1972 graduate of Taylor Center High School.

Also in the armed forces: Marine Pvt. John J. Bienkowski, the son of Joseph J. Bienkowski of Romulus, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego, Calif.

During the 11-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards exhibited by Marines.

He joined the Marine Corps in April 1977.

Marine Lance Cpl. Marion S. Langford, whose wife, Pamela, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Cook of Morton Drive, Belleville, has reported for duty with Force Troops, Marine Corps Base, Twentynine Palms, Calif.

He joined the Marine Corps in July 1976.

Navy Boiler Technician Fireman Appren. Daniel G. Lamance, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Lamance of Exway, Belleville, has completed the Basic Boiler Technician Course.

During the course at the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill., he received instruction in the use of hand tools, the operation and maintenance of shipboard pumps, and the operation of boilers and other engineering machinery. In addition, he was introduced to the types of engineering duty watches that Boiler Technicians stand aboard ships.

A 1977 graduate of Belleville High School, he joined the Navy in August 1977.

Navy Electrician's Mate 3.c. Blair E. Demeritt, whose wife, Cheryl, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Rawski of Holmes Road, Romulus, has completed the Basic Electrician's Mate Course.

During the self-paced course at the Service School Command, Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill., the students received instruction on electrical theory and studied the operating principles of the batteries, generators, motors, and transformers used aboard ships and at shore installations. The course was designed to provide a thorough understanding of the operation, maintenance, and repair of electrical systems.

He joined the Navy in July 1977.

Navy Electronics Tech. 2.c. Raymond C. O'Donnell III, the son of Raymond C. O'Donnell Jr. of Belleville, recently departed for an extended deployment in the Mediterranean Sea.

He is serving as a crewmember aboard the Norfolk, Va.-based destroyer tender USS Puget Sound. While deployed, his ship will operate as a unit of the U.S. Sixth Fleet.

During this 6½-month cruise, Puget Sound is scheduled to participate in training exercises with other Sixth Fleet units and ships of allied nations. Port visits are planned in several Mediterranean coastal cities.

He joined the Navy in December 1974.

Do it sensibly

It's time to shed that winter weight

By SUE McDONALD
ANP News Editor

Spring is here...It's time to break out the warm-weather clothes...But what's this...Last year's bikini is disappearing under your winter weight...It's a little bit harder to zip up your shorts...And your belly button has "caved" in.

It seems with the advent of spring there comes the usual round of dieting to fit back in that summer wardrobe and to look good at the beach.

As nutritionist constantly caution, obesity is the nation's No. 1 health problem. We as a nation are speed conscious. We eat fast lunches at fast food restaurants to get back to work fast. The idea of a slow and leisurely dinner is obsolete...Three hours for dinner...What, and miss those prime time television shows.

An estimated 25 to 45 percent of the county's adult population over 30 years is overweight (more than 10 percent are above ideal weight). But controlling your weight can be simple...simple mathematics and perseverance.

To maintain your weight caloric intake must equal energy out put. For weight loss, caloric intake must be less than the energy output. And for those who want to gain weight, the reverse is true...caloric intake must exceed energy output.

For those shedding their winter weight, remember that unused energy, better known as calories, is stored by the body in the form of fat. Energy is used by the body in two ways: Involuntarily, the automatic functioning of the body's organs; and voluntarily, physical action that you control.

The amount of energy needed for voluntary activity depends on body size, the size and number of muscles used and the duration and intensity of the activity. For example, writing this story requires fewer muscles and is less strenuous than swimming, which uses most of the body muscles and can be very strenuous.

Here's a comparison of common activities and the average amount of energy consumed per hour.

—Walking slowly, 170 to 200 calories per hour;

—Bicycling, 270 to 500 calories per hour;
—Dancing, 200 to 400 calories per hour;
—Golfing, 300 calories per hour;
—Tennis, 350 to 450 calories per hour;
—Swimming, 250 to 600 calories per hour;
—Jogging, 700 calories per hour; and —Running 725 to 1,000 calories per hour.

Losing weight is never easy...I know, I've been trying to shed my winter weight since January...If you approach it with a carefully constructed plan you can establish your weight-loss regimen.

Here's another checklist, developed by the Consumers Relations Department of Kraft Foods, to go over when it looks like your initiative is wavering...And believe me, it does plenty.

CHECK the appropriate weight for your body size, age and sex. Height and weight tables are readily available from the Public Health Service, insurance companies, nutrition books, dieticians and school nurses.

SET a realistic and sensible weight loss goal of two pounds per week.

WEIGH yourself once a week, at the same time and on the same scale. It is preferable to weigh yourself in the morning before dressing and eating. Don't weigh yourself during the week, since slight fluctuations can be discouraging.

PLAN menus, including between-meal snacks.

FOLLOW a shopping list and only purchase the food you need.

For a MODEST weight loss, reduce serving sizes, eliminate high calorie desserts and snacks and refuse second servings at mealtime.

DO NOT fast or crash diet.

If you continue to OVEREAT, keep a daily record of everything you eat and when you eat it—or join one of the many weight reductions clubs. The companionship may be the extra stimulus and encouragement you need.

Do not completely ELIMINATE favorite high-calorie foods, but eat them less frequently and in small amounts.

EAT a variety of foods in order to obtain your daily requirements of the essential nutrients. As a general rule of thumb, diets that emphasize one type of nutrient—high-protein or high-carbohydrate intake—are detrimental to good health.

Do not SKIP breakfast or lunch to cut calories. Each meal is important. Skipping meals usually leads to unplanned snacking and excess calories.

EAT low calorie, nourishing foods such as small portions of fruits, vegetables, cheese and meat for between meal snacking. Small salads with low-calorie dressings are excellent choices.

EAT slowly, thus allowing your body to achieve a sense of satiety before you overeat.

TRIM fat from meat, but do not completely eliminate fat from the diet since it has a high satiety value and delays hunger.

BROIL, bake or pan-broil meats. Substitute SKIM milk, buttermilk or no-fat dry milk for whole milk.

ELIMINATE sugar and cream in your coffee.

EAT fresh fruit or vegetable salads topped with low-calorie dressings.

AVOID alcoholic beverages since they are low in nutrients and high in calories.

If you are not ATHLETICALLY inclined, try to get additional exercise by walking, gardening or even routine house cleaning. Exercise is especially important during dieting to keep the body strong and firm.

JOIN a physical fitness class.

You won't be labeled a "fat cat", if foods are selected with care and exercise is included in the daily routine. And remember, don't be discouraged if your weight fluctuates or weight loss doesn't occur immediately. Generally, it takes two to three weeks before the body can adjust to a change in the diet and can begin to discard excess water and fat.

Oh, if you want to shed a lot of winter weight, you may reach "plateaus" that may last as long as six to eight weeks. And it's at those times that it takes perseverance to stick to your diet. But if you do, you will lose weight.

Patience, perseverance and self-control are the factors in successful weight and permanent weight loss. It's not easy, but it is rewarding.

Mrs. Phyllis Blank of Belleville Road, has returned home from Beyer Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient since breaking her knee. She is managing on her crutches quite well.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Carpenter of Grand Haven visited at the Liberty Street home of their aunt, Dorothy Westgard, before leaving for an eight-day tour of Rio de Janeiro and Uruguay.

Dorothy's sister, Mrs. Bertha Harvey of Grand Rapids, spent the entire time in Belleville.

The ladies enjoyed their visit together.

YWCA launches ENCORE program

The YWCA of Western Wayne County is launching ENCORE programs — a copyrighted postmastectomy group rehabilitation program being sponsored by the national YWCA.

The ENCORE program is in keeping with the goals of the YWCA, a spokesperson said, adding that the Y is a place where women of all racial, religious and economic backgrounds can recognize, develop and strengthen their potentials as responsible individuals.

The basic aim of ENCORE is to provide a physical and emotional rehabilitation primarily through exercises, as well as supportive group discussions.

According to Helen Glines Kahut, one of the organizers of ENCORE: "Women who have had mastectomies need to be able to accept themselves, to accept the circumstances of their lives and once again to function normally in the world in which they live."

Some women are able to accomplish these objectives entirely on their own. Others, probably the majority, are greatly helped by discovering they are not alone and that is the purpose of ENCORE, she added.

At weekly sessions, the 90 minutes is divided into a half hour of gentle exercise done to soft music, a half hour of talking, finding practical information or sharing experiences and feelings, finding some emotional support.

The last half hour is devoted to water exercise, one of the quickest ways to redevelop muscles and regain flexibility.

An advisory committee has been formed to insure high quality of standards and safety in the ENCORE program. Serving on the committee will be doctors, nurses, social workers and others from area hospitals, the Michigan Cancer Foundation, Visiting Nurses Association and "Reach to Recovery" of the American Cancer Society.

ENCORE, which supplements programs sponsored by the American Cancer Society and Michigan Cancer Foundation, will hold its first session April 25 at Stout Junior High School in Dearborn. The session will be from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

The weekly fee is $2 per session.

Women who have had a mastectomy are encouraged to join the program, but most do so only with a doctor's written permission.

Audrey Wasserman, program area director, and Nancy Clauer, swim instructor, will conduct the sessions.

For further information and registration contact Ms. Wasserman at 561-4110.

In candlelight ceremony

Plemmons-Watters exchange nuptial vows

A candlelight ceremony officiated by the father of the bride and grandfather of the groom, marked the March 17 nuptial of Cheryl Jean Plemmons of Belleville and Steven Keith Watters of Adrian.

Held at the Pilgrim Evangelistic Tabernacle on South Street, The Rev. Ernest Plemmons, father of the bride, and The Rev. Donald Baughey Sr., grandfather of the groom, officiated.

The bride chose a lace-covered gown, which she made, for the ceremony. Made of taffeta, the gown featured a ruffled neckline and bodice, covered with layers of lace. The veil, also made by the bride, was trimmed in lace. A multi-colored completed the bridal ensemble.

The bride asked her sister, Kathie

Plemmons to act as her maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Deborah Lindsay of Kansas City, Kan., sister of the groom, Mrs. Pamela Goble of Adrian, cousin of the groom, and Nancy Kennedy of Ypsilanti.

Their gowns were of shades of dark and light green and were made by the attendants. Their headpieces were of white bow streamers. The bride is the daughter of The Rev. and Mrs. Ernest Plemmons.

The groom asked his cousin, Gerald Merril of Jackson, to act as the best man. The other attendants were Dennis Goble, Rodney Lindsay and Donald Plemmons, brother of the bride.

Jeff and Mike Watters of Tecumseh served as ushers, and the candlebearers were Ernest Jr. and Daniele Plemmons, brothers of the bride.

The miniature bride was Debbie Holderfield, cousin of the bride, whose gown was styled like the bride's. Her veil also was designed by the new Mrs. Watters. The miniature groom was Mark Watters, cousin of the groom.

Organist for the ceremony was Gerald Mullen, and Mr. and Mrs. Mullen sang several songs during the ceremony.

For the evening ceremony, Mrs. Plemmons wore a pink knit gown and rose-colored velvet jacket, which she made. The groom's mother chose a 3-piece lace and knit green formal for the nuptial.

A reception for the 450 guests was held at the National Guard Armory. The cake was by a friend of the bridal couple, Mrs. Ruby Rayner of Whitmore Lake. The servers were Mrs. Donna Powers, Mary Watters, Dorcas Baughey, Pauline Storres, Dorothy Merril, Edna and Tammy Avery, Theresa Watters and Virginia Butler.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Pennsylvania before taking up residence in Adrian.

The new Mrs. Watters is a 1976 graduate of Belleville High School and was a secretary for Betrand Inc. in Canton Township before relocating in Adrian.

Her husband, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Watters Jr., is a 1971 graduate of Adrian High School. He attended Jackson Community College and currently is employed by Alloy Metal and Abrasive Co. of Adrian.

STOP SMOKING IN FIVE DAYS.

Whether this is your first, fifth or fiftieth attempt to stop smoking, it will be your last. Because our 5-day group program neutralizes your desire for tobacco.

You don't need anyone to tell you the drawbacks of smoking but if you continue smoking in face of the evidence, you probably need help in quitting. Or maybe it's easy for you to stop, but staying stopped is something else.

If you want to quit smoking, we will show you how to stop. At the end of five days, you will be through with cigarettes forever. Even the most hard to cure smokers find that the Smoke Stoppers program works for them.

How Smoke Stoppers Works

Our program doesn't just stop you from smoking, but rids you completely from your dependence on nicotine. We don't use hypnosis, scare tactics or filters and devices to get you to stop smoking. And you won't need will power either. Years of research on habit formation allow our skilled therapists to show you how to quickly break your smoking habit through the development of new associations in the subconscious memory.

Here's What People Say About Smoke Stoppers

Many people tell us that a valuable part of our program is the section that shows you how to minimize or eliminate the weight gain that often accompanies smoking cessation programs. Here are some of the other things our graduates tell us about our program:

Mr. S. G. from Southfield —
2 pack a day smoker for 10 yrs.

"I had tried to quit smoking about ten other times by myself but without success. With the help of the program I am now free of cigarettes for the first time since high school and I have not been irritable either."

Mrs. C. S. from Ann Arbor —
1 pack a day smoker for 23 yrs.

"I was amazed that after the first day I hardly had any urges for a cigarette nor did I crave food. The Smoke Stoppers program made this possible."

Mr. T. C. from Grosse Ile —
4 pack a day smoker for 46 yrs.

"I didn't know quitting could ever be this easy. The Smoke Stoppers program was almost magical in the way it got me off cigarettes and has kept me off. I'll never smoke again."

Five Hours To Freedom

At the completion of the Smoke Stoppers program you will find that you are once again your own person. You will be completely free from the need to smoke. And all it takes is five days . . . five hours . . . and the first session is free.

FREE INTRODUCTORY MEETING

7:30 PM Tuesday, April 4 or Wednesday, April 5
Lemontree Apartments Clubhouse, 49000 Denton Rd.

Come to one of these meetings and discover a pleasant, painless and most importantly . . . effective . . . way to rid yourself of the smoking habit.

Griffin greets BPWers

Members of the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs recently met with Michigan Sen. Robert P. Griffin, during the National Legislative Conference in Washington, D.C. Some of the issues discussed with the senator included Social Security legislation, labor law reform and the Equal Rights Amendment. Among the group which meet with Griffin were Belleville BPW members Leona Farr and Faye Sotomayor.

Party fetes golden couple, Ernest and Florine Rossi

Nine children, 27 grandchildren, various in-laws and friends joined with Ernest and Florine Rossi of Belleville recently to celebrate their 50 years together as husband and wife.

The couple were married on March 3, 1928, at St. Francis Church in Detroit. They now live on Lenmoore Street in Belleville, and have been residents of the community for 34 years.

The party was hosted by their nine children on March 5 at the VFW Hall in Romulus. It attracted well-wishers from as far away as Colorado, Ohio, Florida and several Michigan cities.

In honor of the very special occasion, the family celebrated with noon Mass at St. Anthony Church in Belleville. The Rev. Raymond Skoney was assisted at Mass by two of the Rossi's grandsons who served as altar boys, Jack Bryan, 12, and Anthony Hopshire, 8. Also in attendance were the Rossis' nine children, their spouses and 27 grandchildren.

The offertory gifts were presented by the youngest granddaughters Erica Rossi, 6, Tanya Rossi, 8, Florina Bryan, 10, Patty Rossi, 12, and Sherry Gibson, 12.

The Rossi's children came from all over the country to celebrate their parents' anniversary with them. The children are Esther Rossi of Belleville; Louise Dudy of Dearborn; Herman Rossi of Adrian; Alfred Rossi of Westland; Carolyn Bryan of Belleville; Valencia Gibson of Denver, Colo.; Genita Hopshire of West Chicago, Ill.; Shalmer Rossi of Sarasota, Fla.; Carmal Youtsey of Romulus.

The golden anniversary couple are members of St. Anthony Church in Belleville. Rossi is retired after being self employed with Northline Construction Co. in Belleville for 30 years. The couple list as a hobby their annual trip to Italy.

The party's special features included a three-tiered cake decorated by Carolyn Bryan and Carmal Youtsey, and a special champagne toast by Aldo Cairo of Troy, Mrs. Rossi's brother. Daughter-in-law Celia Rossi from Adrian made the table decoration in gold and white, with gold candelabra. Italian cookies were made by all the daughters.

For the very special occasion, Mrs. Rossi chose a gold lame chiffon dress, and wore white and gold flower corsage that included small sweetheart roses. Rossi sported a rosebud boutonniere.

Among the special guests were Nattie Fontain and Henry Cairo (brother of Mrs. Cairo), who were members of the original bridal party 50 years ago.

The Purple Penguin in Westland

I have talked to people who claim to have seen a pink elephant, but a purple penguin? Be it as it may...The Purple Penguin is a fact, not a myth. The Purple Penguin we refer to is located at 888 S. Wayne Road, Westland, and is one of the finer restaurants for informal dining in Western Wayne County.

The building has been there for some seven years, first as the Hungry Penguin, then as the Chicken and Fins, and then, because of business being slow, was closed for three months.

A very enterprising man saw that a possibility existed, and because of his background, none of it being in the restaurant business, but in many other business ventures that were successful he thought of those famous words...WHY NOT!

Owner Dale Webb was born in Youngstown, Ohio, some 60 years ago. He was raised and schooled in both academics. His family was in the dairy business in Ohio for more than 45 years, so his knowledge of food products also was an experience. In 1974 Dale moved on in life and accepted a sales position with Glidden Paints, and was in Arizona, New Mexico and Texas. He also met his wife that same year.

Dale and Emily came to Michigan in 1954, and Dale became a real estate broker in Birmingham for 12 years. He decided to try something else and ventured in to what he hoped would be a career for the future. For three years Dale owned and operated a water softener business in Pontiac. Something still lacked in public contact—Dale refers to himself as a "people person"—and he wanted to have daily contact with people.

Now enters the "Purple Penguin", and how it came to be... Originally, the Penguin was there for the past two business owners, and Dale saw an opportunity to get an eye catcher and to save money for a new restaurant display...so, as he simply puts it: "I just painted the penguin a bright purple and away we went into business."

On Thursday March 23, the Purple Penguin celebrated its first birthday, and the enthusiasm has reached higher levels than Dale had expected. Both he and Emily, and all the employees find that the restaurant is picking up new customers each day, and now some of them have become regulars...if not dining at the restaurant, taking advantage of the carry-out service that is provided.

The Webb family lives in Wixom on 10 acres, and Dale and Emily and their daughter, Jean, have called it home since 1962...and in the in between time have breed and sold paint and pinto horses. But being a gentleman horseman just was not fulfilling for Dale, and even never having been in the restaurant business, his desire overcame any fears that might have been, and after his first year, the thrill that the Webbs have and the hopes for a success wit the Purple Penguin makes one sort of envious.

A visit to the kitchen and the immaculate coolers, sinks, food preparation areas would make you think immediately of a hospital kitchen, and Dale proudly boasts: "You could eat off the floor. That's the way I keep it, and that's the way others who intend to work for me will keep it." The coolers are stainless steel and chilled to 34 degrees for freshness, and the smoker cooker for barbequed ribs is something else. A microwave is used to cook items at times and also to heat up the submarine sandwiches.

Dale relates that he is there from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., and Emily works in the mornings in food preparation for the day, making their shrimp and tartar sauce, as well as the rib sauce and cole slaw.

Starting April 3, the Purple Penguin will be open daily from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. and on Sundays from 12 noon to 9 p.m., both for dinners as well as carry-out.

There are seven employees, mostly high school or college students, and Dale and Emily, as well as the assistant manager, Rob Arnold, train each and every one to properly cook the food. The Webbs are quite proud of the quality of their products... but as a precaution they check constantly with well known customers to see if they are satisfied with the quality of the food and the portions served.

The decor is quite unique and quaint and done in old English style, both outside and inside. A banister railing greets you as you enter the restaurant and place your order, either for dining there or for the carry-out. The ceilings are of acoustical tile for a low noise level, with the area over the counter order section having a dropped cedar shake roof-like appearance. The windows are sparkling clean and have a diamond grid effect of a small English cottage. The drapes are done in an early English print of a fox hunt, and add a bright, cherry touch to the atmosphere. Imported chandeliers with amber globes hang from the ceiling and identical lights adorn the wall. The walls are in white stucco and rough-sawn, dark stained boards in a decorative cross buch effect.

There is seating for only 28 people, and the tables are of heavy oak, with captain's chairs. Red plush carpeting with traces of black is very eye-catching. Taped contemporary music allows for a congenial mood, but doesn't interfere with the conversation at all.

Dale mentions the fact that his fish—a quality cod—is a prime cut of loin, cut and marinated six hours in a special seasoning with lemon juice. It is coated with batter and cooked, and has become one of the best sellers of the entire line. Fish, Dale explained, is not normally marinated by other restaurants because of the time involved, but he wants to make sure the flavor is there and the quality is enjoyed by his customers.

The menu consists of seafood dinners—two pieces of fish at $1.65, three pieces for $2.15, clams $2.60, shrimp at $3.95, scallops at $3.95—and chicken dinners—four drumettes at $1.15 and three pieces (breast, thigh and leg) for $2.25. That includes french fries and cole slaw.

A slab of ribs, two fries and two cole slaws costs $7.95, while a half of a slab, fries and cole slaw costs $4.35.

Corned beef, roast beef and stacked ham sandwiches run $1.50, while 12 pieces of chicken cost $6.85 and 15 pieces $8.45.

A regular submarine sandwich costs $1.60, and others are ham at $1.75, corned beef at $1.75, roast beef at $1.75, cheese steak at $1.75 and super steak at $1.85. A french dip sandwich is $1.95.

Side orders of fries are 55 cents, and it's 65 cents for onion rings. Fried mushrooms cost 85 cents, cole slaw 35 cents and 95 cents for a pint, drumettes 30 cents each, roll and butter 10 cents, hush puppies 5 cents each, chowder 75 cents and soup 65 cents.

DINNER AT THE PURPLE PENGUIN FISH... extremely good...battered very well...moist and tender, no fishy taste...as good as any I've had...tartar sauce very good and plenty of it.

SHRIMP...excellent...a taste I now enjoy as each day goes on.

POTATOES...can't describe them except delicious...round and fried like thick quarters...but somehow different taste... well worth trying.

BEEF...tender and juicy...

ONION RINGS...fresh, hot and good.

HUSH PUPPIES...moist, tender and great.

MUSHROOMS...try and find a better one.

COFFEE...Good flavor.

Pink elephants, green goblins, orange ostrich, red raccoon, move over...The Purple Penguin is here to stay...One-year-old and growing...Dale and Emily Webb. Thank you for a new venture in dining...

Swish! Multi-talented All-Area cagers can shoot eye out of baskets

When you can put five players on a basketball floor who are averaging near or better than 20 points per game per player -- you have a team that can potentially score 100 points per game.

And when those five players are from area high schools, you will have the makings of the 1978 Associated Newspapers' All-Area basketball team.

Undoubtedly, this year's version of the mythical and elite squad is probably the best ever assembled. It can do it all, to use the coach's jargon.

With such standouts as all-stater Tyrone Jordan (Cherry Hill), Kelvin Patterson (Belleville), Tom Ellinghausen (Plymouth Salem) and Daran Armstrong (Westland John Glenn) as the mainstays, the All-Area roster is deep in talent and fans don't need a program to identify them.

Add to these four the names of Darnell Morris (Wayne Memorial), Butch King (Plymouth Canton), Pat McBride (John Glenn), Gene Reitz (New Boston Huron), Chris Baker (Livonia Franklin), Don Calloway (Cherry Hill), Rich Hewlett (Plymouth Salem), Herb Burrus (Belleville), Floyd Simmons (Cherry Hill), Tom Jurewicz (John Glenn), Herb Buckley (Romulus) and Craig Hanton (Livonia Churchill) and you have a line-up that any coach - high school or college - would like to get his hands on.

Armstrong was Glenn's spark-plug. His keen sense of finding the open man and shoot for the percentage shot enabled the Westlanders to win both the conference and district championships when sketics gave them little chance of beating the likes of North Farmington and Salem (in the playoffs).

Daran, one of seven juniors honored on this year's elite squad, averaged 16 points per game and scored a total of 368 points this season. He led the team in assists with 132 or six per game and picked up 52 steals to top the Rockets in that field. From the field Daran was 47 percent accurate with his shots and at the free throw line he was a 68 percent shooter.

"Daran is a real team player as evidenced by the number of assists," said Glenn Coach Gordie Davis. "He excelled in penetrating the opposition's defenses and hitting the open man and he always came on strong in the fourth period."

Armstrong was named to a score of "all" teams, including the conference, suburban and earned honorable mention all-state.

Patterson is making his second appearance on the All-Area cage team. The 6-1 Belleville junior's credentials undisputed among the finest. He averaged 23 points per game - the highest in the conference and area - and also muscled his way to the boards for 11 rebounds. An unanimous all-league selection for the past two years, Kelvin can intimidate a team with his presence on the floor with or without the ball.

Jordan, a 6-4 senior guard who also doubles as a forward, was the catalyst behind Cherry Hill's memorable season. An all-state, Metro West and unanimous MVP selection in the Tri-Rive Conference, Tyrone scored 541 points in a Spartan jersey and hit on 238 of 448 shots from the field for a 53 percent average. He fell only 11 points shy of former Spartan great, Bob Fowler's single season record. At the foul line, Tyrone made 65 of 98 attempts for a hefty 66 percent.

Jordan, who transferred from Taylor Center to Cherry Hill to make sure he would play after voters in Taylor turned down a millage, includes in his accolades the MVP Spartan Award, Coaches' Award and co-captain. He blocked 78 shots and chalked up 344 rebounds and accounted for two assists (91) and two steals (56) per game.

"Jordan is an outstanding young man with an outstanding future," said Coach Dick McNally. "His sense of humility and respect are reflections of his maturity. He is truly a cage thoroughbred and his parents are to be commended for raising such a fine young man."

"Butch" King was Plymouth Canton's sparkplug and he kept Coach Casey Cavel's Chiefs in the midst of the Western Six Conference title race right up to the end.

Butch, (nee Harold) completed his second year on varsity scoring at a 21.3 clip. He also set a school single game scoring record when he pumped in 41 points against Waterford Mott, a team that snatched

The Sports Meridian

The making of All-Area '78 vintage

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

There is this chirping Cardinal that awakes me each morning at 6 a.m.

I am very thankful.

And the reason why the inconsequential fact leads off today's column is that there were many stories - some praiseworthy - that went into the making of the 1978 All-Area basketball team.

One of those stories belong to the neophyte Romulus High head cage coach Rod Hanna whose responsiveness enabled us to complete this year's honor roll without delay.

It is no secret that school is "out" for the Easter Vacations. And many of the cage coaches who have completed a long and hard season have taken off for brief vacations.

When I phoned the Hanna residence on Monday for information on the Romulus coach's candidates for the elite team, Mrs. Hanna answered the phone and said, "Rod is in St. Louis for the NCAA National Championships."

After informing Mrs. Hanna of the purpose for the call, she added, "I'll see what I can do."

Less than a half-hour later, the gal at the reception desk in our office informed me that there is a long-distance call for me from St. Louis.

Hanna wasted little time in contacting this desk to see if there was anything he could do to expedite the All-Area team.

After 10 minutes of dialogue our problem was solved and Hanna then gave a brief rundown of the playoffs and "This tournament is really something. I wish I had the money so that I could have my entire team down here."

With that kind of devotion and enthusiasm, there is no doubt in my mind that Romulus will again become a state power in basketball as it was during the Johnny Long era of the early 70's.

And it's coaches like Hanna who make this job much easier.

Though there were no real surprises in the outcome of the NCAA championship game - Kentucky nipped Duke, 96-88 as the world knows, there is one facet of that game that many will debate, I feel, for some time.

Though some will ridicule Kentucky Coach Joe B. Hall for pulling his starting five in the closing seconds, then inserting them back after a Duke rally which cut the Wildcats' 10 point lead to four in less than 30 seconds, it shows that even the great coaches are prone to miscalculations.

To Hall's credit, he wasn't foolish to stand by on his earlier decision - which could have proven fatal - and quickly replaced his second team with the starters who secured the victory and the prestigious national collegiate basketball championship.

Now back to the area scene.

It seems that there will be a few other cage coaches hitting the trail. Among those are Chuck Henry, Wayne's No. 1 cage mentor who, along with his staff: Steve Schwartz, Gary Schwan, and Dennis Healy will attend the Metalist Industry Basketball Clinic which will be held at the Hyatt Regency in Chicago this weekend.

The rumor mill

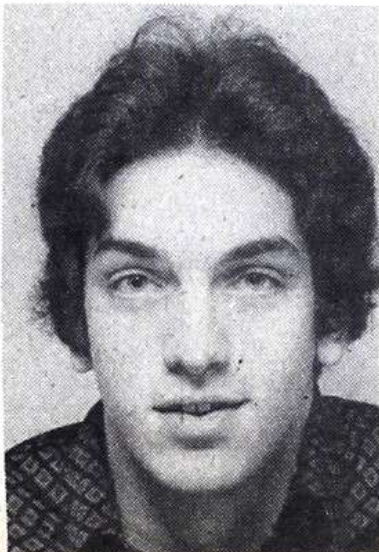

Jerry Pawloski, one of the most successful swimming coaches in the area, has reportedly resigned as Cherry Hill's No. 1 swim startegist.

Pawloski, who has won more Tri-River Conference titles (10) than any other coach and whose team finished among the top 10 in the state for the past two years, told a swim banquet audience that he was quitting because he wanted to devote more time to his family.

Pawloski is the Spartans head football coach and also attendance officer at the high school and his busy schedule doesn't leave much time for his kids and wife.

Jerry has always been generous with his time. In fact, for the last eight years he has helped gather the Top Swim and Diving Listing which appears here during the swim season.

Obviously, there will be more about Pawloski next week when the ANP unveils its annual All-Area Swim Team.

DON CALLOWAY

RICH HEWLETT

Gordie Davis

ched the conference crown away from the Chiefs.

King, who also is a junior, made 75 percent of his free throws and counted 3.5 assists per game.

"He definitely was the mainstay of our game," Cavel said. "You also have to remember that most of the teams double teamed him and knew they had to stop Butch in order to beat us."

Ellinghausen follows in his brother Jim's footsteps. Jim was an all-stater, All-Area cager for Salem three years ago and is presently playing for Ohio State.

However Tom is undecided where he wants to play ball, said Coach Fred Thomann.

Tom amassed 456 points in his senior year for a 19.8 ppg. He is second only to his brother in career points (1,034) but he holds the single game rebound record of 23 set against Southfield in the Class A finals of the district tournament. That rebound record eclipsed Jim's by two.

Morris also had to transfer in order to salvage his senior season. The 6-4 1/2 senior moved to Wayne from Romulus when voters failed to approve a millage, but that didn't stop Darnell from establishing himself as one of the finest cagers in the Great Lakes 8 and the area.

"He has tremendous jumping ability and is an excellent shot from the perimeter," said Coach Chuck Henry who managed to guide the Zebras to a second place conference finish (10-4) and 11-10 over-all mark.

Darnell scored 248 points, averaging 12.4 ppg and in three games hit 20 or more points. In 13 of 20 games he was in double figures and finished with a 44.2 scoring accuracy. His highest total was 25 against Fordson.

Darnell also picked off 206 rebounds for 10.3 per game.

"Morris showed how rapidly he could adapt," said Coach Henry. "In the first game Truman's 6-10 center, Keith Mitchell got 30 points against us. In the second game we beat them in a double overtime and one of the reasons was that Darnell held Mitchell to three shots in the rematch."

McBride was a deadly shot around the key and he was labeled as the Rockets most consistent player. He figured in 5.5 assists per game and racked up 12.5 ppg for a 53 shooting percent. Pat, whose brother also starred for the Rockets, was considered Glenn's top defensive player and shot well in the clutch. He was 70 percent accurate at the free throw line.

"McBride never had a bad game (Continued on 2nd Sports)

'Coach of the Year'

Unselfish cagers make this unforgettable year for Davis

Never has a group of cagers taken Coach Gordie Davis so far in the state playoffs.

And the 49-year-old Davis credits his cagers' unselfishness for the success of the team.

Glenn's veteran cage team not only presented Davis with an undisputed Northwest Suburban Conference title, snatching it away from pre-season favorite, North Farmington, but the Rockets also gave him the district title.

The Westlanders lost to a tough Detroit Mackenzie quintet in the Class A regional championship, ending a highly successful year. Reaching the regional finals was the furthest any Glenn basketball team had gone in state playoffs since the school opened its doors in 1954.

Glenn chalked up a 19-4 won-lost record.

Davis credits this year's success "to the players' unselfishness."

"We had a very cohesive group of players who were unselfish and played with a lot of propensity," Davis pointed out. And in Daran Armstrong we had an excellent floor leader who personified the concept of team play."

An outstanding season has led to yet another post-season honor for the gregarious Rocket mentor: The Associated Newspapers' has singled him out as "Coach of the Year."

Top tankers on block

The All-Area Swimming Team will be featured next week, completing the last of the big three winter sports which included basketball and wrestling.

The team, picked by the area coaches in cooperation with the Associated Newspapers' Sports Department, will include the top swimmers from Wayne Memorial, Belleville, Westland John Glenn, Cherry Hill, Livonia Franklin and Churchill as well as Plymouth Canton and Salem.

There will be thumbnail sketches of the swimmers, some of whom earned All-State recognition for their performances at the recent state championships.

Included with the team will be the ANP's version of the "Coach of the Year" in swimming.

Don't miss our next edition...it will complete what was an outstanding year for our area athletes.

Pettus' jump record in jeopardy

Koger soars 6'8" to win Huron title

CHRIS KOGER

Belleville's 17-year-old senior Chris Koger established himself as one of the top high jumpers in the state last week by winning the Eastern Michigan University sponsored Huron Relays.

Koger, sidelined mid-way in the basketball season with a broken wrist, set a Huron Relays high jump record when he successfully negotiated 6 feet, 8 inches to win the gold medal.

"He really looked good," said Belleville's third year coach David Medley. "Setting the record so early in the season has made him the premier athlete in the state in the event. We're looking for great things from him."

Koger, who stands 6'1 1/4", said he had only one thought when he approached the bar when it was placed at 6'8" and, "that was to get over it."

"I'm really happy and proud to have won it," said Koger whose next goal will be to erase former Belleville great, Garrade Pettus' school record of 6'8 3/4".

"I just hope I can do it," Koger added.

Koger was the only member of the Tiger squad of 15 to score at the prestigious meet which lured most of the area teams to Ypsilanti and is the traditional opening meet of the season for high school track.

Koger also participated in the AAU National Track & Field Invitational held recently at Cobo Arena. He finished second with a leap of 6'7".

Wayne meanwhile unveiled its 1978 track model at EMU and Coach Ernie Righetti's trackmen picked up six points. Rick Blaha launched his senior season with a fourth place in the 2-mile run as he covered the distance in 9:40, while the Zebra distance medley relay team of Mark Michalowski, Tim Dean, Ron Mason and Doug Tolson turned in a 10:54.2, good for eighth place.

The 2-mile quarter made up of Ron Reges, Michalowski, Mason and Tolson finished ninth with an 8:24 effort.

Righetti said he was disappointed in some of the performances by members of the team, but added, "that we had some good efforts by some runners, but just couldn't put anything together as a team."

Most of the area teams will be back in action on Saturday when they travel to East Lansing to compete in the annual Spartan Relays hosted by Michigan State University.

16 cagers honored on elite All-Area club

for us," said Coach Davis. "And that is really something to say about a player who had pressure on his each week."

Reitz was phenomenal for the Chiefs out at New Boston Huron. Not only was he an excellent shot but, according to Coach Gene Smith, he was one of the - if not the - best guard ever to come out of Huron High.

"I have been here for the last six years," Smith said, "and I don't think there is any player who can compare with Reitz' as a guard with the exception of the Gorham boy. (Randy Gorham was an All-Area cager back in the early 70s.)"

Reitz collected 426 points in 22 games for a 19.4 average and hit on 42 percent of his field goals. He finished with 67 percent at the foul line and picked up six assists and 2.6 steals per game.

Reitz' efforts helped the Chiefs win a district title and salvage a 15-7 record after a shaky start.

Chris Baker moved to Livonia and Franklin after North Dearborn Heights (Riverside High) failed to pass a millage which wiped out athletics. And the 6-4, 190-pound junior looked good in a Patriot cage uniform. He is probably the only cager around to be picked on the Tri-River Conference and Northwest Suburban cage teams in consecutive years.

Chris scored 15.5 ppg. and accounted for 14 rebounds per game. "He's just a super player and fine athlete," said Franklin Coach Jim McIntyre. He plays with an intensity to win and also combines it with fun which makes for a good ball player."

Of course, one question that remains is, Will Chris stay at Franklin? NDH has restored sports after the voters gave the school system the monies to operate.

Calloway is one of the slickest and fastest ball handlers around. He make the team click and when (and that was rarely) he faltered the results were disastrous.

Don set a Cherry Hill record for assists at 155 and scored 303 points - mostly on drives. He also led the Spartans in steals with 60.

"Calloway is definitely the quickest and slickest ballhandler I've ever coached," said Coach McNally. "He can penetrate, hang and then watch out. He's a real sparkplug. And I sincerely believe that he was one of the finest point guards in the state this year and is an excellent college prospect."

Rich Hewlett is also one of those rare athletic talents that broke into the All-Area line-up as a sophomore, hence he is making his second appearance on the team.

Groomed as a guard, Rich uses his 6-1 frame to infiltrate enemy lines with his excellent moves. "Rich is one of these low profile players," noted Coach Thomann. "He doesn't capture your attention, then look-out he can hurt you from everywhere with his long-range jump shots and his drives."

Many of the Suburban 8 and area teams had to learn those facts the hard way and became wailing walls when Hewlett became hot.

Burrus was Belleville's second leading scorer and held down the fort when Patterson attacked. Herb is an excellent shot and with him and Patterson back in the lineup, Coach Tom Niemi's Tigers will rise above their 9-11 record when the 1978-79 campaign gets underway in November.

Simmons also will be back and that's bad news for Spartan cage foes. Though he led the team in scoring and rebounding as a sophomore, Floyd was runner-up in both categories to Jordan. However, he didn't play in Ty's shadows - Simmons made his presence known early on the court and fired up the Spartans - it was his performances in the districts and regionals that provided the Spartans with a winning edge.

He was awarded the Spartans' defensive player of the year award and scored 372 points (54 percent) and picked off 171 rebounds.

"Floyd is nicknamed 'silk smooth' by his teammates," McNally revealed, "and that pretty well described his style. He is quick and jumps well and fundamentally a clutch performer."

Jurewicz was Glenn's center attraction at both ends of the floor. A tireless performer who fits perfectly in the "unselfish" image. Tom usually 'fed' the open man while he averaged 11 points per game and eight rebounds in a championship year. His 56 percent shooting accuracy was second to none on the Rocket squad.

Buckley, a 5-10 senior guard, helped organize a Romulus team who lost key performers to area high schools because of a millage failure. He contributed 13.9 points per game, six assists and three steals per game in a season that saw Coach Rod Hanna's Eagles climb to a 11-4 record when it was doubtful that that cold have a winning season.

In fact, at one stretch before the Russian flu hit, Romulus had an enviable 10-4 mark.

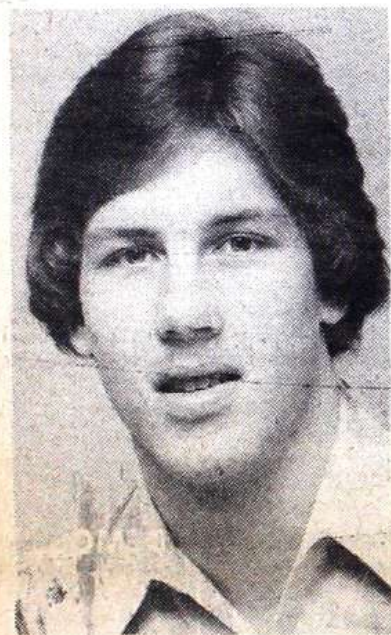

"Herb was our floor general who had an excellent knowledge of the game," said Hanna. "And no one could take the ball away from him. He is very coachable and we're going to miss him next year."

Hanton was Churchill's MVP. And his contributions included 15.0 points per game on a 46 percent shooting from the field effort. He picked up 59 assists and was at the right spot at the right time as he accounted for 60 steals, the most by any Charger.

"Last year Craig was our seventh man," said first-year Coach Fred Price. "And he moved right to the front this year because of his excellent team leadership and clutch performances."

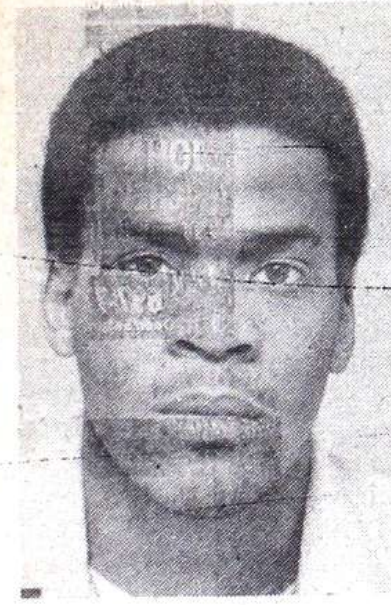

At one stretch, Hanton managed to sink 10 consecutive free throws - points that helped turn the tide of games in Churchill's favor.

On the edge of bowling history

This is a crucial week for Tri-County Electric's bowling team which has a divisional lead at the 75th annual American Bowling Congress Championships being staged in St. Louis. If the local keggers, made up of captain Ed Manier (from left) Max Martin, Bob Jawor, Jim Mazie and Al Rizzo can make their 3,038 team pins stand up the top team score, they'll become the first area team to capture the divisional ABC championships. The victory will enable them to compete in an international tournament at a later date. Manier has posted a 662 series, while Jawor has come up with a 626. Mazie and Rizzo followed with 648 and 569 scores, respectively while Martin has turned in with a 569. The Tri-County Electric team bowlers have been bowling together for only a year.

Engine oil not only lubricates metal parts but also helps to keep them working clean. Check the oil level every time you need gasoline. You can let the service station attendant do the checking and filling, if necessary. Or you can also do both of these jobs yourself and save money by buying oil in five-quart cans. Use only the class and viscosity of oil recommended in your owner's manual. Today most oils are multiviscosity types that flow well in winter and also resist thinning out in the summer.

Do-it-yourself mechanics are always welcome at KOSIN'S AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan, Inkster. Our experienced staff offers expert advice on how to keep your car running smoothly and efficiently. We carry a complete stock of parts, accessories and tools for both foreign and domestic cars. Our complete modern machine shop handles all types of engine work and our skilled mechanics tackle the most challenging engine repair problems. All work is done right on our premises. Call KOSIN'S at 563-3894. We are open daily from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m., and on Saturdays until 5 p.m. Bank Americard and Master Charge are honored.

HANDY HINT: The best time to check the oil level is when the oil has had time to drain back into the crankcase.

Plymouth-Canton sets football registration

The Plymouth-Canton Junior League has set aside two dates for football registration.

The league will be signing up players, ages nine to 13 from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m., April 8 at the Canton High School and also at the same site on April 15 from 9 a.m. until noon.

Players must be between the weights of 65 to 130 pounds to be eligible to compete in either of the three divisions: freshman, junior varsity, or varsity.

There is a $15 registration fee and potential players must be accompanied by an adult when they sign up. The player also should produce his birth certificate.

The league also is seeking cheerleaders, ages nine to 13.

For further information, please telephone Mrs. Dolores Meador at 455-2687.

The classic scenario

The day the champ made a comeback

By JAY YOUNG

(Editor's Note: Contributing writer Jay Young was available for this feature story about staffer Bob Ameen, who is better known as the Bald Eagle, for obvious reasons. Here is Mr. Young's story of a dramatic duel between Ameen, a nationally-known three-cushion champ, and Carlos Hallon of Boston, Mass.)

It was a scene straight out of the Cincinnati Kid.

On the one hand was the venerable former champ - a middle-aged, balding man of unassuming appearance, but thoroughly steeped in the knowledge and lore of the game, a man with confidence of his proven abilities through long years of study and countless competitions.

The aging former champ's opponent was a bold, fast-rising newcomer who, although well-known in his territory, had yet to win a national title. He was the physical antithesis of the champ: young, dramatic, mod hair style, a black-and-white vest outfit, set off by the gold jewelry that dangled down the neck of his open shirt.

All the elements were present for a classic confrontation: youth against age, style against substance, seasoned experience versus youthful optimism.

If you're thinking this scenario sounds like a page out of a B-Grade movie script, too melodramatic to be true, you're wrong. These very elements were the raw ingredients of a national three-cushion billiards championship held recently in Oak Park involving the Associated Newspapers' own Bald Eagle, also known as Bob Ameen, and a young East Coast Player named Carlos Hallon.

Ameen had mentioned to me several weeks earlier that he was a former United States Billiards' champ, vintage 1971, and was currently preparing for an important regional tournament. He tweaked my curiosity, and knowing absolutely nothing about the game, I decided to drive out to Nine Mile and Coolidge to a large billiard room aptly named the "Cushion 'N Cue."

When I arrived about noon, the preliminary rounds were well underway, with Ameen having already won his first two matches. He was scheduled to play the young favorite at 2 p.m., so I settled down to have the game explained to me while watching a Dameon Runyon-esque character named "Boston Shorty" in action.

Watching from wooden benches on either side of the tournament tables, the myriad machinations and complexities of the game slowly unraveled under the patient tutelage of Milt Goldring, a freelance writer for the National Billiard News, who was here covering the story for New Jersey.

The object of the game sounds deceptively simple. There are only three balls on a pool table, (two in white, one red) with no pockets. The idea is to hit one cue ball off the second ball, after which it must contact three or more different cushions before striking the third ball, or hit three cushions before striking the other two balls, called a bank shot. (By the way, three cushion players scoff at the pocket billiard players, belittling their games as childishly simple compared to this ancient past-time.)

As you can imagine, the variations and combinations of shots are infinite, and even after three straight hours of concentrated study, I was unable to visualize the angle possibilities for even the most elementary shot.

(Considering the rules and idiosyncracies associated with the game and its rabid devotees, I concluded that surely the English had a hand in its development, considering some of the other products of the British mind, including cricket, rugby, croquet and lawn bowls.)

A player may shoot until he fails to achieve the required hits, each turn being called an inning.

Score is kept by each player advancing small rings strung above the table on wires. Each ring represents one point; the first player to gain 35 points, wins. Because of the difficulty of the game, one point an inning is considered very good. Ameen told me last year's champ once scored 19 straight points, a house and national record which has been unmatched in as many years.

But enough of the rules. Boston Shorty had just been upset, 35 to 34 and now it was time for the owner to announce the next round.

A hush fell over the crowd, and the smoke cleared, veteran players and local hangers-on quietly gathered around Ameen's table for what was to be an eventful match.

Wise money was on Hallon, since

Ameen hadn't been active in the sport for several years. The local experts weren't sure if he still had it, plus Hallon was coming fresh from placing well in recent tournaments across the nation.

At the opening of the game, called the lag, each player must shoot a ball down the table and back to the opposite end. The closest to it, gets to start first.

Bob's ball returned half-way down the table and immediately the tension and foreboding began to well up within my throat.

For the first dozen exchanges, few points were scored, as each player tried to control his nerves and set the pace of the match.

But, then slowly, almost imperceptibly, it began to happen. Bob began running off a string of two and three points unanswered by Hallon. As Bob's shots gradually increased in complexity, Hallon's missed by fractions of millimeters.

Hallon had the look and the style of a confident challenger, but the applause was directed at Ameen's masterful execution of difficult shots. (I know they were difficult because even some of Hallon's supporters begin to defect and applaud the old pro.)

Two hours later, Ameen won the contest with three consecutive points, 35-17, an overwhelming upset. Just like the Cincinnati Kid, the young challenger had been vanquished and the wise old pro of the smoky pool rooms had emerged victorious to the congratulations of everyone present.

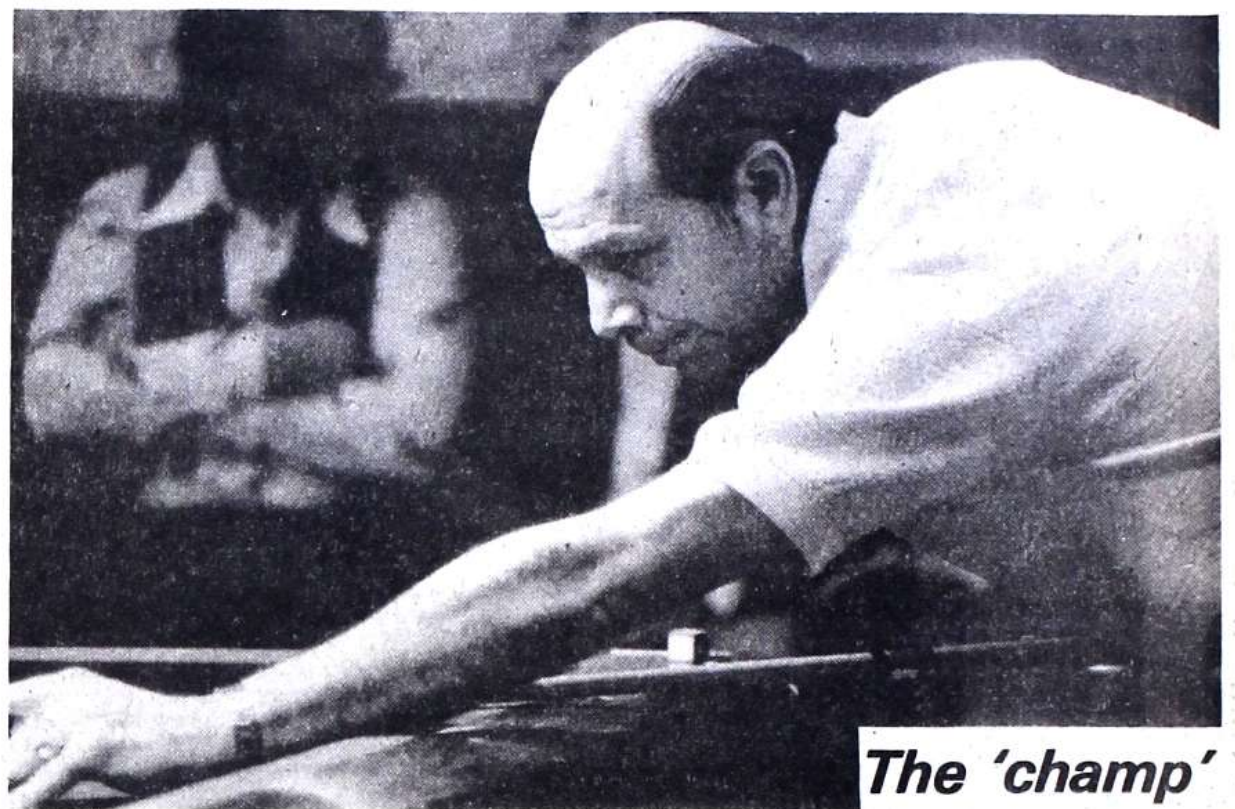

For the neophyte spectator like myself, it was different and exciting way to spend a dreary cold Saturday afternoon. For Ameen, it was a moment of glory; his finest hour after a long period of self-imposed exile for a frustrating and demanding sport.

However, the young challenger got his revenge.

Ameen went on to reach the semi-finals thanks to a string of five consecutive victories, but then it happened: a rematch with the same young challenger ended in defeat. The challenger then went on to finish second, which was good for $900 in prizes.

I left after Ameen's big victory and didn't see the end of the competition.

I was glad, after all, the old champ had beaten the young challenger. Surely there was nothing more to add to that perfect scenario.

The 'champ'

...And the challenger

Bob Ameen (the 'old champ'), better known as the Associated Newspapers' "Bald Eagle", lines up a shot in the National Billiard News Open three-cushion billiard tournament held recently at the Cushion 'N Cue, Oak Park, Mich. Ameen, who won the three-cushion billiard U.S. Open Championship in 1971, defeated one of the up-and-coming youngsters, Carlos Hallon (the challenger) of Boston, Mass. by a lopsided score of 35-17. The Bald Eagle participates in many such tournaments and is one of the top-ranked players in the nation today.

Extra Point wins Over 30 Wayne-Westland title

Despite a brief absence from the top of the standings in the stretch, Extra Point Bar recovered in time to capture the inaugural Wayne-Westland Over 30 League hockey championship.

In a head-to-head battle with year long rival Four Seasons, the barmen clearly established themselves as the better team, shutting out the challenger, 4-0, in the title game.

Extra Point again turned to its defense to protect its title image as goalie Jerry Wysocki notched his second shutout of the campaign and the E.P. skaters shut down the Four Seasons scoring attack made up of Norm Beasley and Larry Kaifesh.

The winners got a goal from Norm Hankala early in the game to set the trend. Don Petre added two more goals to give the champs a commanding 3-0 lead early in the second period, then Conrad Mandelano provided the icing with the final tally of the regular season.

With the shutout Wysocki edged out Four Seasons' goaltender, Jim Gibson, for the goalie honors of the year.

In other action, Johnson Carbonic upset third place 52nd Show Bar by a 10-6 score. After Ron Johnson's hat trick and one by Chuck Jennett, the game was deadlocked at 4-all, then Lee Calloway went to work - the big center scored six straight goals to secure the victory.

Johnson, the league's leading scorer, ended up with three goals and four assists while Calloway, who is runner-up for the most goals scored, added two assists to go along with his six goals. In a supporting role, defenseman Bill Keskey added six assists.

Jerry Grubbe and Wayne

Auten had a pair of goals for the losers with Ron Wojewski and Don Middaugh added single tallies.

Tastee Freez prepared for the playoffs by winning its third game of the season at the expense of Huron Valley Steel, 6-4. The winners took control of the situation with a three-goal burst in the first period.

In a tight defensive battle, Jack's Sports Center and Brock Builders settled for a 1-1 tie in their final meeting for the regular season. Dennis McCormick's second period goal gave the builders a 1-0 lead, but John Clearwood came through with a goal with 37 left in the game to salvage the tie. Jack's John Ruggerio and Brock's Rich Grazioni both turned in stellar performances in the nets.

Second best in districts

If the cliché about being second and working harder is true, then count on the Wayne Jaycees' sponsored squirt hockey team trying harder next year. The Jaycees finished runner-up in District 5 which enabled them to play in the state tournament which was hosted and won by Livonia. Among some of the accomplishments this season included the Thanksgiving Tournament trophy, a second at the Christmas Invitational and runner-up in the Adray

Aloha
Romulus' Long to play in Hawaii cage classic

John Long, Romulus High's contribution to the world of basketball, and Terry Tyler have been selected to play in the 1978 Aloha Classic in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Long, who recently earned All-American honorable mention consideration and teammate Tyler, co-captained the University of Detroit's Titans to an auspicious season.

The two Titans will be teamed on the Midwest Team in the four-team setup with games set for April 6-7-8. They will be meeting teams designated as "East", "South", and "West" in the round-robin format.

U-D's senior pair are the first Titans selected for this tournament and comes as a fitting reward to a season in which each was accorded All-American mention by "Basketball Weekly" while Tyler was on the Basketball Writers All-

JOHNNY LONG

District Four Team and the Basketball Weekly All-Region Team.

Both players were mentioned in the wire service polls and gained pre-season "All" mentions as well.

Long is U-D's all-time career scorer and field goal producer. The former Romulus High All-Stater finished with 2167 points and 940 field goals. Tyler, a Detroit Northwestern product, is the school's third-leading all-time rebounder, and all-time top field goal accuracy shooter at .567. He set career records for blocked shots and tied with Long for a career steals mark.

The Titan duo, tabbed Lightning (Long) and Thunder (Tyler) paced U-D to identical 25-4 seasons as juniors and seniors and played key roles as U-D rolled to an 86-25 record during their careers.

Tyler finished third on the career scoring and field goal lists while Long was fifth in the field goal accuracy, eighth in rebounds and 10th in free throws. Both are also in the career top ten in assists for the Titans.

Final Prep Swim

Eldridge catches a bonefish

Gilbert T. Eldridge, 4315 Adams Circle, earned a citation in the Metropolitan South Florida Fishing Tournament when he nabbed an 8 lb. bonefish in the 12 pound division. Eldridge also earned a Gamefish Release Award when he caught and released a bone. He fished out of Islamorada with Capt. Gary Reigister on the Miss Cash as a guide. Eldridge will receive jacket patches and a year book with his awards at the close of the tournament.

RELAXATION ODDITIES-HELPFUL TIPS

By Joy Miller

A game that strikes millions of Americans as a good way to relax is bowling. Right now there are some 8,640 bowling establishments, with 147,237 lanes used by about 65 million bowlers in the U.S.

A good way to determine whether your thumb fits the bowling ball properly is to place the thumb in the ball and turn your hand back and forth, clockwise and counter-clockwise. If you feel the slightest bit of friction, the thumb fit is a good one.

Bowling, like every sport, has a set of DO's and DON'TS. The rules are based on common sense, and express courtesy and good sportsmanship, such as, "DO yield the right of way." When two bowlers are on adjacent lanes and simultaneously ready to bowl, the bowler on the right delivers first.

Grissom's world

Identify your catch

By SAM GRISSOM
Outdoor Writer

After a winter spent in anticipation of this day, you head your boat out of the harbor for the first time this season. The morning sun feels warm on the back of your neck and the faint trembling of the deck beneath your feet seems as if the boat is aware of the excitement. Pulling back on the throttle you feel the boat leap in response to your command. Minutes later you throttle back, set lines and wait. With all eyes intent upon the bowed rods, you are still surprised when the first rod snaps to attention and immediately lays back down in that throbbing arch that signals a good size running fish. You grab the rod from the holder, set the hook and your pulse races with excitement as you are fast into your first fish of the year. Thirty minutes later you slide your net under him.

Lifting your catch into the boat, you start wondering just what kind of fish have you taken. You know that it is a salmonid, but is it a record? Or is it just average? Many times a year, record class fish are cleaned and eaten because the angler was unable to identify his catch properly. Proper identification is important for several reasons: First - Angler satisfaction; Secondly - Improving and updating DNR (Department of Natural Resources) records on the trout and salmon program; Thirdly - A limit catch is five fish, only three may be lake trout in Lake Michigan; Fourth - The DNR Master Angler Award recognition program; Fifth - Tackle companies often reward the angler of a record fish with gift packages of lures; and finally, the MUCC's $1,000 prize to registered anglers catching state record fish. While all of the salmonoid species look a lot alike, I hope the following information will assist you in telling them apart.

Diagrams of various fish species and their characteristics.

LEGAL NOTICES

To the Supervisor and Clerk of the Township of Canton, Wayne County, Michigan.

Sirs: You are hereby notified that the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, did, at a meeting of said Board held on February 23, 1978, decide and determine that the certain streets described in the minutes of said Board should be County roads under the jurisdiction of the Board of County Road Commissioners. The minutes of said meeting fully describing said streets are hereby made a part of this notice, and are as follows:

Minutes of the regular meeting of the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, held at the Board's offices, 415 Clifford Street, Detroit, Michigan, at 9:00 A.M., Eastern Standard Time, Thursday, February 23, 1978.

Present: Vice-Chairman Herron and Commissioner Burton

"Commissioner Burton moved the adoption of the following resolution:

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, that it hereby accepts the dedication to the use of the public of the following described roads and they are hereby taken over as county roads and made a part of the county road system of the County of Wayne:

All of Bath, Epping, Pittsford, Republic, Simsbury, and Woonsocket Drives and Epping and Lyme Courts, as dedicated to the use of the public in WILSHIRE SUBDIVISION of part of the N.E. 1/4 Section 10, T.25., R.8E., Canton Township, Wayne County, Michigan, as recorded in Liber 97 of Plats on Pages 86, 87, 88 and 89, Wayne County Records, constituting a total of 1,365 miles of County Roads.

The motion was supported by Commissioner Herron and carried by the following vote:

Ayes: Commissioners Burton and Herron.

Nays: None."

THIS NOTICE IS GIVEN UNDER AND BY VIRTUE OF ACT NO. 283 OF THE PUBLIC ACTS OF 1909, AS AMENDED.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand at Detroit, Michigan this 28th day of February, A.D. 1978.

RE-ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF IMPROVEMENTS AND ENCLOSURE OF THE BARNES DRAIN CITY OF WESTLAND, WAYNE COUNTY, MICHIGAN

RECEIPT OF BIDS

Sealed bids in duplicate for furnishing all plant, labor, materials, supplies and equipment and performing all operations in connection with the construction of improvements and enclosure of the Barnes Drain will be received until 11:00, E.S.T.: April 19, 1978 in the office of the Wayne County Drain Commissioner; 900 W. Lafayette Blvd., Detroit, Michigan 48226, and at that time publicly opened and read.

DESCRIPTION OF WORK: Principle features of the proposed project includes construction of 1,543 linear feet of 30" thru 66" dia. R.C.P. storm sewer, including miscellaneous drainage structures and connections, the grading and site work associated with enclosure of the existing open storm drain.

BIDDING DOCUMENTS

Plans, specifications, contract documents and bid forms may be obtained at the office of the Wayne County Drain Commissioner, 900 W. Lafayette Blvd., Detroit, Michigan 48226. A deposit of $25.00 (check only will be required for each set of Bidding Documents obtained. Deposits will be refunded upon the return of the documents to the Drain Commissioner's Office, provided the documents are in good condition and returned within two weeks after opening of the bids.

BID GUARANTY

All bids must be accompanied by a certified check, cashiers check or bidder's bid, payable to the Barnes Drain Drainage Board for the sum of 5 percent of the accompanying bid, to secure the Drainage District by reason of the withdrawal of the bid or the failure of the bidder to enter into a contract if the bid is acceptable to the Drainage Board.

AWARD OF CONTRACT

The Drainage Board reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids and to waive any irregularities therein. No contractor may withdraw his bid for a period of 120 days subsequent to the opening of bids. Proposals received will be compared on the basis of the summation of the quantities of items listed and the unit prices bid. In the case of an arithmetic error discovered in a bid, that bidders computations will be corrected and compared on the basis of unit prices as written in the proposal. Award of the contract will be to the lowest responsive bidder provided such bid does not exceed the amount of funds available to finance the contract. The successful bidder will be required to furnish 100 percent Performance and 100 percent Labor and Materials Bond.
